Vass Jr, James Vass Jr, 2003-05-13 This book is a study of UW men s basketball fans during the 2001 2002 season and explores their proclivity to cheering for self during basketball events The term basketball event is used rather than basketball game to make clear that everything connected to and seen heard or experienced before during and after a basketball game is included The actual game itself is only part of the basketball event An undercurrent runs throughout this participant observation mini ethnography dealing with access and the relative quality of that access to basketball events being affected by ones age class race and gender The prominent role of advertising in shaping basketball events and helping to construct fans as consumers of products both commercial and institutional during the process of cheering for self is central to this idea Cheering for self is the activity engaged in by individual fans after they find things to identify or connect with through personal investment Fans cheer for self indirectly Fans cheer for the team that they identify with Through the process of cheering for self while attending the basketball event people are taught how to become fans to consume a UW product the basketball event and to consume advertisers products People have a tendency to spend their entire life trying to impress others Microeconomics James D. approach to the material and lively new discussions offer students a textbook that is easy to learn from and interesting to read. Instructors will like the additions to the Further Topics section which offers an up to date presentation of new topics in microeconomics. Journal of Economic Literature, 2001. Principles of Microeconomics John E. Sayre, Morris, Alan J. (Alan James), 2006. The Sayre Morris texts have been written for first year economic principles courses offered in colleges and universities. In writing the text the authors have focused on four guiding principles: Achieve a well written text; the authors have developed a well written text that speaks directly to the student; At the same time the text avoids unnecessary jargon, abstraction and repetition; Focus emphasis on the student; students learn economics by doing economics. Self test questions are positioned throughout each chapter to check for understanding and the authors have integrated a carefully crafted Study Guide with three levels of problems allowing students to master the basics as well as get reinforcement with the more difficult concepts. Avoid an encyclopaedic text; each text covers the course in 13 carefully crafted chapters allowing for a few extension topics ensuring that most of the text can be covered in the standard 12 or 13 weeks. Provide a coherent package; the authors have written the text, instructor's manual and integrated Study Guide and have carefully supervised the development of the test bank, PowerPoint slides and the Online Learning Centre content ensuring an integrated and comprehensive teaching and learning package. Resources in Education, 1993.
