MY AUTOBIOGRAPHY

I am Alea Mae D. Benitez, I was born on May 7, 2000 in Pasay City, Philippines. We are two siblings in the family, I am the second child. My mother's name is Divina D. Benitez from Sorsogon, Bicol. My father's name is Nelson D. Benitez. And he is from Camarines Sur, Bicol.

During weekends, we usually spend our days in the family. We always go to church. We helped each other in our activities. My family was a happy and loving family. I had a happy childhood living with my parents and my siblings. I completed my elementary education at Don Carlos Velez Elementary School. During my junior high school, I completed my junior high school at President Corazon Aquino National High School and I usually spend my time with my friends. Since the lockdown, I have a daily routine with my friend for a Google meet until dawn, and we do various things when we do, such as talk about what is going on in our lives and watch movies that have been shown several times. We have been watched pitch perfect all seasons. I finished it several times. When I am not with them, I watch shows like Mr. Queen and Ghost Doctor. And I am a senior at Pasay City South High School, I work hard on everything I can to get into a good university where I can continue my college.

examines the concerns of Asian American literature from 1996 to the present This period was not only marked by civil unrest terror and militarization economic depression and environmental abuse but also unprecedented growth and visibility of Asian American literature This volume is divided into four sections that plots the trajectories of and tensions between social challenges and literary advances Part One tracks how Asian American literary productions of this period reckon with the effects of structures and networks of violence Part Two tracks modes of intimacy desires loves close friendships romances sexual relations erotic contacts that emerge in the face of neoimperialism neoliberalism and necropolitics Part Three traces the proliferation of genres in Asian American writing of the past quarter century in new and in well worn terrains Part Four surveys literary projects that speculate on future states of Asian America in domestic and global contexts

Imagination and Environmental Political Thought Joshua J. Bowman, 2018-03-16 Imagination and Environmental Political Thought The Aftermath of Thoreau seeks to correct oversimplified readings of Henry David Thoreau's political thought by elucidating a key tension within his imagination With the celebration of Thoreau's two hundredth birthday now past this study outlines and builds on his own understanding of imagination and considers its implications for environmental politics Despite the use of the word aftermath Thoreau's legacy for environmental political thought is primarily constructive and foundational for modern environmentalism Thoreau's virtues and vices have been inherited by his environmentally conscious readers The author of Walden's preference for an abstract ahistorical higher law his radical concept of autonomy and his frustration with government and community foster an impractical political thought characteristic of an idyllic imagination Nevertheless Thoreau demonstrates a more prudential and moral imagination by emphasizing the inescapable relationship between the moral order of individuals and the order of political communities and by pioneering the central questions of humanity's relationship to non human nature Can this tension of imaginations be resolved What are the consequences of this tension Thoreau's overall vision ultimately creates significant problems with which environmentalists still struggle While Thoreau's emphasis on freedom and the immaterial aspects of human and non human nature are of considerable value his abstract political morality misanthropy and escapism must be resisted both for the sake of environmental well being and human dignity In addition this book is an exercise in re thinking how the humanities may provide scholars critical insights to better diagnose and respond to the environmental challenges of our time
