Aimo Törn, Julius Žilinskas

Journal Of Global Optimization:

Journal of Global Optimization , Journal of Global Optimization ,1995 Global Optimization Marco Locatelli,Fabio Schoen,2013-10-16 This volume contains a thorough overview of the rapidly growing field of global optimization with chapters on key topics such as complexity heuristic methods derivation of lower bounds for minimization problems and branch and bound methods and convergence The final chapter offers both benchmark test problems and applications of global optimization such as finding the conformation of a molecule or planning an optimal trajectory for interplanetary space travel An appendix provides fundamental information on convex and concave functions Intended for Ph D students researchers and practitioners looking for advanced solution methods to difficult optimization problems It can be used as a supplementary text in an advanced graduate level seminar Special Issue on Frontiers in Global Optimization Christodoulos A. Floudas,International Conference on Frontiers in Global Optimization,Panos M. Pardalos,2004 Special Issue: The Third World Congress on Global Optimization ,2016 Models and Algorithms for Global Optimization Aimo Törn,Julius Žilinskas,2007-04-08 The research of Antanas Zilinskas has focused on developing models for global optimization implementing and investigating the corresponding algorithms and applying those algorithms to practical problems This volume dedicated to Professor Zilinskas on the occasion of his 60th birthday contains new survey papers in which leading researchers from the field present various models and algorithms for solving global optimization problems Lectures on Global Optimization Thomas Frederick Coleman,2009 A large number of mathematical models in many diverse areas of science and engineering have lead to the formulation of optimization problems where the best solution globally optimal is needed This book covers a small subset of important topics in global optimization with emphasis on theoretical developments and scientific applications Essays and Surveys in Global Optimization Charles Audet,Pierre Hansen,Giles Savard,2005-12-05 Global optimization aims at solving the most general problems of deterministic mathematical programming to find the global optimum of a nonlinear nonconvex multivariate function of continuous and or integer variables subject to constraints which may be themselves nonlinear and nonconvex In addition once the solutions are found proof of its optimality is also expected from this methodology Therefore with these difficulties in mind global optimization is becoming an increasingly powerful and important methodology Essays and Surveys in Global Optimization is the most recent examination of its mathematical capability power and wide ranging solutions to many fields in the applied sciences Computational Methods in Global Optimization ,1992 Special Issue: The 1st World Congress on Global Optimization in Engineering & Science ,2012 Special Issue on Global Optimization with Mutiple Objects ,2015 Selected papers of the Workshop on Global Optimization Reiner Horst,1998 Handbook of Global Optimization Panos M. Pardalos,H. Edwin Romeijn,2013-04-18 In 1995 the Handbook of Global Optimization first volume edited by R Horst and P M Pardalos was published This second volume of the Handbook of Global Optimization is comprised of chapters dealing with modern approaches to global optimization including different types of heuristics Topics covered in the handbook include various metaheuristics such as simulated annealing genetic algorithms neural networks taboo search shake and bake methods and deformation methods In addition the book contains chapters on new exact stochastic and deterministic approaches to continuous and mixed integer global optimization such as stochastic adaptive search two phase methods branch and bound methods with new relaxation and branching strategies algorithms based on local optimization and dynamical search Finally the book contains chapters on experimental analysis of algorithms and software test problems and applications

Stochastic and Applied Global Optimization M. Montaz Ali, 2011 Recent Advances in Global Optimization Christodoulos A. Floudas, Panos M. Pardalos, 1992 The conference on Recent Advances In Global Optimization took place during May 10 11 1991 at Princeton University It was organized by Professor C A Floudas Princeton University and P M Pardalos Penn State and supported by AFOSR under grant AFOSR 91 0116 the conference was very successful and attracted researchers from a wide spectrum of interests and activities that is reflected in applied mathematics computer sciences operations research chemical civil mechanical and electrical engineering biochemistry and chemistry It represents the first truly international conference devoted exclusively on the subject of global optimization having 80 participants from USA Germany Finland Italy France Vietnam Russia Canada Portugal and Mexico Princeton University recently published a book Eds Floudas and Pardalos with the referred papers presented at the conference and the Journal of Global Optimization is going to devote two issues on selected papers of this conference

Lectures on Global Optimization Panos M. Pardalos, Thomas Frederick Coleman, Special Issue: Toulouse Global Optimization Workshop, 2013 Special Issue: Global Optimization Workshop 2012, 2014 Global Optimization Reiner Horst, Tuy Hoang, 1990 The enormous practical need for solving global optimization problems coupled with a rapidly advancing computer technology has allowed one to consider problems which a few years ago would have been considered computationally intractable As a consequence we are seeing the creation of a large and increasing number of diverse algorithms for solving a wide variety of multiextremal global optimization problems The goal of this book is to systematically clarify and unify these diverse approaches in order to provide insight into the underlying concepts and their properties Aside from a coherent view of the field much new material is presented By definition a multiextremal global optimization problem seeks at least one global minimizer of a real valued objective function that possesses different local n minimizers The feasible set of points in \mathbb{R}^n is usually determined by a system of inequalities It is well known that in practically all disciplines where mathematical models are used there are many real world problems which can be formulated as multi extremal global optimization problems

Nonlinear Equations and Optimisation L.T. Watson, J.A. Ford, M. Bartholomew-Biggs, 2001-03-14 homepage sac.cam.ac.uk/na2000/index.html7 Volume Set now available at special set price In one of the papers in this collection the remark that nothing at all takes place in the universe in which some rule of maximum or minimum does not appear is attributed to no less an authority than Euler

Simplifying the syntax a little we might paraphrase this as Everything is an optimization problem While this might be something of an overstatement the element of exaggeration is certainly reduced if we consider the extended form Everything is an optimization problem or a system of equations This observation even if only partly true stands as a fitting testimonial to the importance of the work covered by this volume Since the 1960s much effort has gone into the development and application of numerical algorithms for solving problems in the two areas of optimization and systems of equations As a result many different ideas have been proposed for dealing efficiently with for example severe nonlinearities and or very large numbers of variables Libraries of powerful software now embody the most successful of these ideas and one objective of this volume is to assist potential users in choosing appropriate software for the problems they need to solve More generally however these collected review articles are intended to provide both researchers and practitioners with snapshots of the state of the art with regard to algorithms for particular classes of problem These snapshots are meant to have the virtues of immediacy through the inclusion of very recent ideas but they also have sufficient depth of field to show how ideas have developed and how today's research questions have grown out of previous solution attempts The most efficient methods for local optimization both unconstrained and constrained are still derived from the classical Newton approach As well as dealing in depth with the various classical or neo classical approaches the selection of papers on optimization in this volume ensures that newer ideas are also well represented Solving nonlinear algebraic systems of equations is closely related to optimization The two are not completely equivalent however and usually something is lost in the translation Algorithms for nonlinear equations can be roughly classified as locally convergent or globally convergent The characterization is not perfect Locally convergent algorithms include Newton's method modern quasi Newton variants of Newton's method and trust region methods All of these approaches are well represented in this volume
