The Partisan Next Door Ethan C. Busby, Adam J. Howat, Jacob E. Rothschild, Richard M. Shafranek, 2021-09-29 In the United States politics has become tribal and personalized The influence of partisan divisions has extended beyond the political realm into everyday life affecting relationships and workplaces as well as the ballot box To help explain this trend we examine the stereotypes Americans have of ordinary Democrats and Republicans Using data from surveys experiments and Americans own words we explore the content of partisan stereotypes and find that they come in three main flavors parties as their own tribes coalitions of other tribes or vehicles for political issues These different stereotypes influence partisan conflict people who hold trait based stereotypes tend to display the highest levels of polarization while holding issue based stereotypes decreases polarization This finding suggests that reducing partisan conflict does not require downplaying partisan divisions but shifting the focus to political priorities rather than identity a turn to what we call responsible partisanship

Communication Theory and Practice Carl H. Botan, 2017-12-18 A guide to strategic communication that can be applied across a range of subfields at all three levels grand strategic strategic and tactical communication Communication is a core function of every human organization so when you work with communication you are working with the very core of the organization Written for students academics and professionals Strategic Communication Theory and Practice The Cocreational Model argues for a single unified field of strategic communication based in the three large core subfields of public relations marketing communication and health communication as well as strategic communicators working in many other subfields such as political communication issues management crisis communication risk communication environmental and science communication social movements counter terrorism communication public diplomacy public safety and disaster management and others Strategic Communication Theory and Practice is built around a cocreational model that shifts the focus from organizational needs and the messages crafted to achieve them to a publics centered view placing publics and their ability to cocreate new meanings squarely in the center of strategic communication theory and practice The author a noted expert in the field outlines the theories campaign strategies common issues and cutting edge challenges facing strategic communication including the role of social media ethics and intercultural strategic communication As the author explains the term strategic communication properly refers only to the planned campaigns that grow out of research and understanding what publics think and want This vital resource answers the questions of whether and how strategic level skills can be used across fields as it Explores the role of theory and the cocreational meta theory in strategic communication

Outlines ethical practices and problems in the field Includes information on basic campaign strategies Offers the most recent information on risk communication preparedness and terrorism communication and employment in strategic communication
 Redefines major concepts such as publics from a cocreational perspective The Oxford Handbook of Religion and American Education Michael D. Waggoner, Nathan C. Walker, 2018-08-01 From the founding of Harvard College in 1636 as a mission for training young clergy to the landmark 1968 Supreme Court decision in Epperson v Arkansas which struck down the state's ban on teaching evolution in schools religion and education in the United States have been inextricably linked Still today new fights emerge over the rights and limitations of religion in the classroom The Oxford Handbook of Religion and American Education brings together preeminent scholars from the fields of religion education law and political science to craft a comprehensive survey and assessment of the study of religion and education in the United States The essays in the first part develop six distinct conceptual lenses through which to view American education including Privatism Secularism Pluralism Religious Literacy Religious Liberty and Democracy The following four parts expand on these concepts in a diverse range of educational frames public schools faith based K 12 education higher education and lifespan faith development Designed for a diverse and interdisciplinary audience this addition to the Oxford Handbook series sets for itself a broad goal of understanding the place of religion and education in a modern democracy Perceptual Linguistic Salience: Modeling Causes and Consequences Alice Blumenthal-Dramé, Adriana Hanulíková, Bernd Kortmann, 2017-06-05 Recent years have seen an upsurge of interest in the notion of salience in linguistics and related disciplines While in top down salience perceivers endogenously direct their attention to a certain stimulus in the bottom up salience it is the stimulus itself which attracts attention In prototypical cases of bottom up salience the stimulus stands out because it is incongruous with a given ground by virtue of intrinsic physical characteristics But a stimulus may also cause surprise by virtue of deviating from a cognitive ground e g when violating social or probabilistic expectations This has prompted researchers to examine the relationship between expectations and the perceptual salience of linguistic stimuli in new ways This e book features contributions from different scientific frameworks The reader will find commentaries reviews and original research articles on models of sociolinguistic and morphological salience the role of attention affect and predictability and on how salient items are processed categorized and learned Taken together the articles in this volume contribute to our understanding of how the perceptual salience of linguistic forms and variants can be theoretically framed and methodologically operationalized in different areas of linguistic processing Perioperative Care of the Cancer Patient E-Book Carin A.
