Teaching for a Tolerant World, Grades 9-12 Leatrice Rabinsky, 1999 A collection of essays and resource to help high school English teachers adapt their own classroom lessons for teaching about genocide and intolerance Inspirational and provocative essays by teachers reflect on classroom experiences and present approaches to teaching various works exploring topics such as racial prejudice the Salem witch trials and the Holocaust Methods used include conflict resolution and peer dialogue journals A final section offers lists of print nonprint electronic and organizational resources Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR     Moving Beyond Personal Loss to Societal Grieving Michelle M. Falter, Steven T.

Bickmore, 2018-11-23 Moving Beyond Personal Loss to Societal Grieving considers how secondary English language arts teachers and teacher educators can sensitively and thoughtfully teach pieces of literature in their classrooms in which large scale deaths are a significant if not central aspect of the texts As mass shootings and violence against black and brown bodies increase and issues such as AIDS war and genocide remain important to discuss as part of a shared critical and social consciousness this book provides resources for educators to directly tackle and discuss these topics through the texts they read in their ELA classrooms Whether it is canonical or contemporary literature middle grades or young adult literature fiction nonfiction or graphic novels literature provides a vehicle to have these difficult but needed conversations about not only the personal but social effects of death and grief in our society Each chapter in this book focuses on 1-2 texts and provides practical activities that ask students to engage with death dying and loss through writing assignments projects activities and discussion prompts in order to build empathy understanding and develop critically minded and engaged students Moving Beyond Personal Loss to Societal Grieving will be of interest to English language arts teachers teacher educators librarians and scholars who wish to explore with their students the complex emotions that revolve around discussing deaths that occur in literature     Readings on Night Wendy Mass, 2000 Elie Wiesel     Friends Journal, 2007

The Failures of Ethics John K. Roth, 2015-07-30 Defined by deliberation about the difference between right and wrong encouragement not to be indifferent toward that difference resistance against what is wrong and action in support of what is right ethics is civilization's keystone The Failures of Ethics concentrates on the multiple shortfalls and shortcomings of thought decision and action that tempt and incite us human beings to inflict incalculable harm Absent the overriding of moral sensibilities if not the collapse or collaboration of ethical traditions the Holocaust genocide and other mass atrocities could not have happened Although these catastrophes do not pronounce the death of ethics they show that ethics is vulnerable subject to misuse and perversion and that no simple reaffirmation of ethics as if nothing disastrous had happened will do Moral and religious authority has been fragmented and weakened by the accumulated ruins of history and the depersonalized advances of civilization that have taken us from a bloody twentieth century into an immensely problematic twenty first What nevertheless remain essential are spirited commitment and political will that embody the courage not to let go of the ethical but to persist for it in spite of humankind's self-inflicted destructiveness. Salvaging the fragmented condition of ethics, this book shows how respect and honor for those who save lives and resist atrocity deepened attention to the dead and to death itself and appeals for human rights and renewed spiritual sensitivity confirm that ethics contains and remains an irreplaceable safeguard against its own failures.

Resources in Education, 1998     The Spirit that Moves Us Laura R. Petovello, Lorry Stillman, Rachel Quenk, Holocaust Human Rights Center of Maine, 1994

For high school students who can be both impassioned and impressionable, the study of the Holocaust encourages discussion about prejudice and justice, shame and dignity, hopelessness and faith, and engages them in debate about the moral and ethical behavior of humankind. Introducing students to the personal narrative, fiction, and poetry allows them to hear a narrative voice recount not only the facts of this historical time but also helps them understand the emotions surrounding the events of the Holocaust. The chapters on music and art act as supplemental material for lessons on the literature. By sharing their ideas, debating the issues, and researching the historical facts, students learn to find their true and honest voices and to listen to the voices around them. This resource guide's lesson plans and suggestions for writing and research projects are designed to reach all levels of academic study. Featured stories and books include The Last of the Just, The Quay, A Scrap of Time, Stones from the River, Seed of Sarah, Night This Way for the Gas, Ladies and Gentlemen If Not Now, When The Shawl, and Maus. All chapters have a brief plot summary of the piece of literature and include analysis of symbol, imagery, language, and style, and their roles in developing a historical understanding of the Holocaust years. Additional chapters explore the art and music of the Holocaust. The guide contains a select bibliography and research sources, glossaries, character lists, and suggested reading for teachers and students. A list of documentary and artistic films is also included.
