Jeremiah Holt Arrest Report:

Report North Carolina State Board of Public Welfare,1897 Report North Carolina Board of Public Charities,1912

Alamance Bess Beatty,2000-01-01 In 1837 Edwin M Holt a thirty year old fourth generation North Carolinian established a small spinning mill on his family s land along the Haw River in rural Orange County By his death in 1884 Holt s small spinning mill had come to dominate the textile industry in Alamance County which divided from Orange County in 1849 and gave the area an industrial legacy that would last for generations Covering the Holt dynasty from the founding of the Alamance Factory in 1837 to the strike of 1900 that eventually shut down most of the family s mills Alamance provides an excellent social history of southern industrial development Bess Beatty intersperses chapters on the rise of the Holts with profiles on their workers to provide a thorough explanation of how industrialization affected sectional familial racial and gender relations across class lines Focusing on class formation and conflict she rejects the long held view that southern owners were paternalistic and that workers were docile and deferential instead arguing that owners and workers had a contentious class driven relationship with both sides striving to maximize their economic success Moreover while Beatty shows that slavery secession war defeat and postbellum race relations influenced the development of southern industry she maintains that industrialization in the South was not fundamentally different from that in other regions of the country Alamance s story of southern industrial power makes an outstanding contribution to the history of southern communities and will fascinate those interested in the region as well as students of social business and labor history Biennial Report

Tradition and Innovation in Biblical Interpretation Willem Th. van Peursen,Janet Dyk,2011-10-07 The theme of this volume in honour of Eep Talstra is Tradition and Innovation in Biblical Interpretation with an emphasis on the innovative role of computer assisted textual analysis It focusses on the role of tradition in biblical interpretation and of the innovations brought about by ICT in reconsidering existing interpretations of texts grammatical concepts and lexicographic practices Questions addressed include How does the role of exegesis as the clarification of one s own tradition in order to understand choices and preferences Talstra relate to the critical role which Scripture has towards this tradition How does the indebtedness to tradition of computer driven philology relate to its innovative character And how does computer assisted analysis of the biblical texts lead to new research methods and results Journal ,1833 Jeremiah, Zedekiah, and the Fall of Jerusalem Mark Roncace,2005-09-08 Uses both a narratological and historical critical method to read these specific passages of Jeremiah Demonstrates that the story of Jeremiah and Zedekiah is not the typical god prophet bad king story found in much of prophetic literature and the Deuteronomic History Provides an intertextual reading of the passages which connects Jeremiah to other figures in the Old Testament The book offers a narratological and intertextual reading of Jeremiah 37 1 40 6 a text that features the dynamic interaction between the prophet Jeremiah and King Zedekiah in the context of events surrounding the fall of Jerusalem While there have been many literary studies of biblical texts there has been little such work on the narratives in the book of Jeremiah This fact is surprising since the Jeremianic stories are narrated in a lively and sophisticated manner and contain complex characters and vivid dialogue and action reminiscent of texts in the Primary History which have received much more literary attention Roncace s book begins to uncover the richness of the prophetic narratives in Jeremiah The study focuses on issues of characterization and point of view as well as the text s connections with other passages in the book of Jeremiah and those beyond it particularly the Deuteronomistic History Roncace argues that the text develops complex images of both Zedekiah and Jeremiah It is not a story of the good prophet and the bad king times as chaotic and confusing as the final days of Jerusalem do not call for a black and white story Rather the text invites both sympathy and criticism for Jeremiah and Zedekiah Jeremiah is the embattled prophet of God yet at times he appears deceptive and manipulative more concerned about his own well being than that of the people and his message can be ambiguous and in the end is not fully correct Zedekiah for his part appears receptive to Jeremiah s word and protects the prophet from others who would harm him yet he is too irresolute to take any action to save the city The ambiguity in the portrayals of both figures is further developed by intertextual connections Jeremiah can be compared to Moses the Rabshakeh Daniel Joseph Samuel Nathan and Micaiah while Zedekiah can be compared to the monarchs that correspond to these figures Pharaoh Hezekiah Saul David and Ahab
