J. Smith,2016-08-03 Above Us Only Sky J. J. Smith,2017-07-31 This is a fictional work that was difficult for me to write but I felt compelled to move on with it Although begun in the 1980 s the settings and the events that propel it are as current now as they were then A cautionary word about this novella it s not the usual story about the end of the world and those who survive It s not about people surviving a nuclear blast an EMP that wipes out everything electronic or even a pandemic It s blunt about what happens and who allows it to happen It starts by telling about the greed intolerance and evil that begins the process While I did not intend to be psychic about it what ends up bringing this story into relevance for today's world is the use of planted or fake news to promote false information that brings about the multiple crises depicted in the beginning of the story It was not only hard for me to write I suspect it may be just as hard for some of you to read I do want you to think about what it offers It offers a warning about our climate and our future on this planet It offers the idea of just how little society and our country have changed in the last centuries appearing time and again to attempt to continue the deplorable views of what should be a defeated ideal of the superiority of one race over another It offers a warning of how science and technology can be subverted to serve those who want nothing else than to control everything and everybody no matter what the cost It offers moments of feeling like all is lost But most importantly it offers a vision of a future that is full of hope Because that is what I believe should be its message Acceptance Hope A future we can all share in Poems and Other Stuff I Created J. J. Smith, 2017-08-21 Growing up I was shy and introverted so it was like the music paper and pen or pencil were my dearest friends I enjoyed writing so much it was no surprise to me when I found I had kept the majority of my writings over the years Now I have the chance to share them with you The subject matter is all over the map the poems in some cases reflect the dawning of social awareness and what was going on in the world as well as my life Some were school assignments Some are just plain frivolous and silly Some are full of young adult angst and emotional despair There are also parts of stories I started and paused for many reasons reasons that were usually time and family related but intend to complete now I have the time and inspiration Yes some poems are uneven some are not in meter strictly speaking but they were from the heart and I left them that way Where dates were written on the sheets I have transcribed from handwritten or hand typed pages I have included them in the title of each piece I did not make any effort to analyze them or change them other than correcting spelling and an annoying tendency I apparently used to have to use abbreviations i e tho instead of though and have typed them into digital format from the sometimes very faded copies then separated them into the decades from which they came Most were not titled so I left them that way and simply numbered them I hope you enjoy this collection *Memoirs of Mr. J.
