English in Fictional Texts Donatella Montini, Irene Ranzato, 2021-06-20 This collection brings together perspectives on regional and social varieties of British English in fictional dialogue across works spanning various literary genres showcasing authorial and translation innovation while also reflecting on their impact on the representation of sociolinguistic polarities The volume explores the ways in which different varieties of British English including Welsh Scots and Received Pronunciation are portrayed across a range of texts including novels films newspapers television series and plays Building on metadiscourse which highlighted the growing importance of accent as an emblem of social stance in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries the chapters in this book examine how popular textual forms create and reinforce links between accent and social persona and accent and individual idiolect A look at these themes as explored through the lens of audiovisual translation and the challenges of dubbing sheds further light on the creative resources authors and translators draw on in representing sociolinguistic realities through accent This book will be of particular interest to students and scholars in dialectology audiovisual translation literary translation and media studies Catalogue Hispanic Society of America. Library, 1962 Dime!: Extended teacher's edition Fabián A. Samaniego, 1997 Using Computers in the Translation of Literary Style Roy Youdale, 2019-06-13 This volume argues for an innovative interdisciplinary approach to the analysis and translation of literary style based on a mutually supportive combination of traditional close reading and distant reading involving corpus linguistic analysis and text visualisation The book contextualizes this approach within the broader story of the development of computer assisted translation including machine translation and the use of CAT tools and elucidates the ways in which the approach can lead to better informed translations than those based on close reading alone This study represents the first systematic attempt to use corpus linguistics and text visualisation in the process of translating individual literary texts as opposed to comparing and analysing already published originals and their translations Using the case study of his translation into English of Uruguayan author Mario Benedetti's 1965 novel Gracias por el Fuego Youdale showcases how a close and distant reading approach CDR enhances the translator's ability to detect and measure a variety of stylistic features ranging from sentence length and structure to lexical richness and repetition both in the source text and in their own draft translation thus assisting them with the task of revision The book reflects on the benefits and limitations of a CDR approach its scalability and broader applicability in translation studies and related disciplines making this key reading for translators postgraduate students and scholars in the fields of literary translation corpus linguistics corpus stylistics and narratology Críticas, 2003 Advocating for Sociolinguistic Justice in the United States Michelle F. Ramos Pellicia, Patricia MacGregor-Mendoza, Mercedes Niño-Murcia, 2024-10-01 This collection focuses on social awareness and critical language awareness with the goal of enlightening and empowering multilingual and multicultural communities across the U S Each chapter brings to light the trauma gaps in services and misguided societal perceptions that adversely impact communities whose linguistic and cultural background and/or status as migrants place them in vulnerable situations In doing so the authors and editors demonstrate how an increased awareness of diverse communities linguistic and cultural wealth can be leveraged to build strength and resilience in order to overcome physical verbal or symbolic violence and provide remedies for inequities in educational medical and legal contexts Showcasing discussions of the intersectionality and contexts in which language power migration and the cultural funds of knowledge of minoritized communities interact this volume will be of interest to students scholars and educators in sociolinguistics applied linguistics and language education
