AP Literature Due Date: December 13, 2012 – Turnitin.com 11:59 PM

AP Language Due Date: January 1, 2013 – Turnitin.com 11:59 PM

What is it? There are many different critical approaches to literature (or “schools of critical thought”). The goal of all of these types of criticism is to help readers explore a work of literature more deeply and to appreciate it as a “multilayered construct of meaning”; as a result of literary criticism, readers are able to recognize the “social and cultural implications” of a work (Kaston et al).

What are the types of literary criticism? There are numerous forms; however, the ones we will be relating to Hamlet are:

- Formalist (New Criticism)
- New Historicism (Historical)
- Psychoanalytic (Freudian)
- Feminist (Gender)
- Mythological/Jungian (Archetypal)

What is the assignment? You will choose one type of literary criticism to focus on for your research paper; your thesis and type of research will vary dramatically based on the school of literary thought that you select. After gathering sources, you will move quickly through the research process gathering data both from the play and outside research and writing your 5-6 page (not including Works Cited page) final draft.

Literary Criticism Research Paper:

A Guide to Literary Criticism and Research Bonnie Klomp Stevens, Larry L. Stewart, 1996 Like the first two editions of A Guide to Literary Criticism and Research this edition is based both on a recognition of a practical need felt in many literature courses and a view of literary study. It attempts to meet the practical need by offering upper level students a condensed but adequate guide to the range of modern criticism and to basic methods of research. In addition it is a hope that the book will give students a more comprehensive view of literary study by helping them to recognize criticism and research as two closely linked parts of a single process.

The Implications of Literary Criticism Harry Levin, 2011 In The Implications of Literary Criticism Harry Levin sees literature as both the cause of social effects and the effect of social causes and proposes a complex literary history. Literature represents the part as the whole involves selection and order and can suggest additions to nature. Art refracts more than reflects life. To comprehend the angles of refraction Levin recommends a comparative study of techniques as a complement to an awareness of social backgrounds. The movement of the body of the book is in four parts from Theory and Criticism through Perspectives and Thematics to Authors Artists Texts The Appendix Reviewing More Implications on Explanation includes key reviews and review essays. The first part opens by raising the question of the crisis in interpretation. The second part continues this exploration of the nature of art literature and interpretation. In the third part which involves thematics Levin reminds the reader of the turn from the background of literature biography history and sociology to the text. The fourth part extends from medieval representations through Renaissance poetics and Victorian novels to twentieth century fiction and film.

Texts and Contexts Steven Lynn, 1998 Texts and Contexts Writing About Literature with Critical Theory provides an accessible introduction to contemporary critical theories from new criticism to cultural studies as part of the practice of writing about literature. This second edition includes cultural criticism and an expanded treatment of political criticism as well as additional coverage of the research process and the internet.
