

ECON 2035 Test 1

2. Why Study Money, Banking, and Financial Markets?

- Financial Markets: markets in which funds are transferred from people who have an excess of investable funds to people who have a shortage of funds. Can be in the form of investments and savings instruments.
- Securities: claims on the issuer's future income or assets.
- Assets: any financial claim or piece of property that is subject to ownership.
- Bonds: a debt security that promises to make payments periodically for a specified period of time. The bond market allows corporations and governments to borrow to finance their activities and it is where interest rates are determined.
- Interest Rates: the cost of borrowing or the price paid for the rental of funds, typically expressed as a percentage.
- Common Stock: represents a share of ownership in a corporation. It is a security that is a claim on the earnings and assets of a corporation.
- Financial Intermediaries: institutions that borrow funds from people who have saved and in turn make loans for others.
- Financial Crisis: major disruptions in financial markets that are characterized by sharp declines in asset prices and the failure of many financial and nonfinancial firms.
- Banks: financial institutions that accept deposits and make loans, included under the term funds and firms such as commercial banks, savings and loans associations, mutual savings banks, and credit unions.
- Financial Innovation: the development of new financial products and services, making the financial system more efficient.
- Financial Services: the industry of financial services.
- Money: anything that is generally accepted as payment for goods and services or in the settlement of debts.
- Gross Domestic Product: the total production of goods and services over a period of time (quarterly and yearly).
