

MARK SCHEME for the October/November 2010 question paper for the guidance of teachers

2281 ECONOMICS

2281/22

Paper 2 (Structured Questions), maximum raw mark 80

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

- CIE will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

CIE is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2010 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

Solving the Climate Crisis through Social Change Gar W. Lipow, 2012-03-12 This book presents an accessible and easy to follow argument that the climate crisis is a side effect of inequality and injustice and demonstrates how strategies such as large scale social investment will prove far more effective in reducing greenhouse gas pollution than cap and trade or other forms of free market environmentalism Solving the Climate Crisis through Social Change Public Investment in Social Prosperity to Cool a Fevered Planet offers a new approach to battling the climate crisis arguing that the massive waste that caused the current environmental crisis resulted not only from fundamental structural flaws in markets but also from social inequality lack of democracy and a deeply flawed foreign policy Rather than providing the typical doomsday perspective it offers realistic optimism about the expanding climate crisis highlighting the convergence between the necessary steps to save the planet and what needs to be done to improve the lives of Americans The author's discussion of the United States's role in the climate crisis spans subjects as varied as the 17th century forests of New England the evolution of housework over 200 years the American addiction to the automobile the lettuce fields of California in the 1970s and the Guano wars in 19th century Bolivia Chile and Peru This book will appeal to a wide range of readers from the interested general public to students academics professionals and other experts The main section presents a clear and accessible survey of the economic social and political causes of the climate crisis accompanied by potential solutions while extensive appendixes offer in depth and technical discussions

Globalization Development and Social Justice Ann El Khoury, 2015-03-27 Are there existing alternatives to corporate globalization What are the prospects for and commonalities between communities and movements such as Occupy the World Social Forum and alternative economies Globalization Development and Social Justice advances the proposition that another globalization is not only possible but already exists It demonstrates that there are multiple pathways towards development with social justice and argues that enabling propositional agency rather than oppositional agency such as resistance is a more effective alternative to neoliberal globalization El Khoury develops a theory of infraglobalization that emphasizes creative constitution not just contestation of global and local processes The book features case studies and examples of diverse economic practice and innovative emergent political forms from the Global South and North These case studies are located in the informal social economy and community development as well as everyday practices from prefigurative politics to community cooperatives and participatory planning This book makes an important contribution to debates about the prospects for and practices of a transformative grassroots globalization and to critical debates about globalization and development strategies It will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations globalization social movement studies political and economic geography sociology anthropology and development studies

Analyzing the Operation of Performance-based Accountability Systems for Public Services Frank A. Camm, Brian M. Stecher, 2010 Empirical evidence of the effects of performance based public management is scarce This report describes a framework used to organize available empirical information on one form of performance based management a performance based accountability system PBAS Such a system identifies individuals or organizations that must change their behavior for the performance of an activity to improve chooses an implicit or explicit incentive structure to motivate these organizations or individuals to change and then chooses performance measures tailored to inform the incentive structure appropriately The study focused on systems in the child care education health care public health emergency preparedness and transportation sectors mainly in the United States Analysts could use this framework to seek empirical information in other sectors and other parts of the world Additional empirical information could help refine existing PBASs and more broadly improve decisions on where to initiate new PBASs how to implement them and then how to design manage and refine them over time
