Ysseldyke, 1995 Most educators are convinced we need to do a better job of assessing students either with new tests or new applications of tests All agree that at this very critical time it is imperative that educators be very knowledgeable about assessment and the ways assessment information is used to make decisions about students The book is intended for a first course in assessment for those whose careers require understanding and informed use of assessment data The primary audience comprises those who are or will be teachers in special education at the elementary or secondary level In writing for those who are taking their first course in assessment we have assumed no prior knowledge of measurement and statistical concepts Pref

Assessing Students with Special Needs James A. McLoughlin, Rena B. Lewis, 2008 This comprehensive text for future teachers of learners with disabilities is grounded in the idea that assessment is at the center of all good teaching Its hallmarks are its accessibility balanced coverage of both this formal and informal assessment plus thorough exploration of the link between gathering information and actually using it to make informed decisions Offering a step by step Assessment Question Model on the inside front cover it equips readers to understand the complete assessment process from choosing the best tool to adapting instruction to improving outcomes Popular as well as lesser known tools are examined in order to acquaint readers with promising procedures for assessing students with special needs

Handbook of Child and Adolescent Assessment Thomas H. Ollendick, Michel Hersen, 1993 A comprehensive presentation of assessment strategies actual strategies and a review of specific populations for psychologists psychiatrists social workers and mental health social workers who work with children and adolescents Chapter authors address only those strategies that have a firm empirical base and proceed beyond behavioral assessment to cover those assessment practices that are used more routinely by traditional clinicians
