which describes in detail every currently recognized species of African land mammal. This is the first time that such extensive coverage has ever been attempted and the volumes incorporate the very latest information and detailed discussion of the morphology, distribution, biology and evolution, including reference to fossil and molecular data of Africa's mammals. With 1160 species and 16 orders, Africa has the greatest diversity and abundance of mammals in the world. The reasons for this and the mechanisms behind their evolution are given special attention in the series. Each volume follows the same format with detailed profiles of every species and higher taxa. The series includes some 660 colour illustrations by Jonathan Kingdon and his many drawings highlight details of morphology and behaviour of the species concerned. Diagrams, schematic details and line drawings of skulls and jaws are by Jonathan Kingdon and Meredith Happold. Every species also includes a detailed distribution map. Extensive references alert readers to more detailed information.

Handbook of Molecular Microbial Ecology II Frans J. de Bruijn, 2011-09-27

The premiere two volume reference on revelations from studying complex microbial communities in many distinct habitats. Metagenomics is an emerging field that has changed the way microbiologists study microorganisms. It involves the genomic analysis of microorganisms by extraction and cloning of DNA from a group of microorganisms or the direct use of the purified DNA or RNA for sequencing, which allows scientists to bypass the usual protocol of isolating and culturing individual microbial species. This method is now used in laboratories across the globe to study microorganism diversity and for isolating novel medical and industrial compounds.

Handbook of Molecular Microbial Ecology is the first comprehensive two volume reference to cover unculturable microorganisms in a large variety of habitats which could not previously have been analyzed without metagenomic methodology. It features review articles as well as a large number of case studies based largely on original publications and written by international experts.

This second volume, Metagenomics in Different Habitats, covers such topics as Viral genomes, Metagenomics studies in a variety of habitats including marine environments and lakes, soil and human and animal digestive tracts. Other habitats including those involving microbiome diversity in human saliva and functional intestinal metagenomics, diversity of archaea in terrestrial hot springs and microbial communities living at the surface of building stones, Biodegradation, Biocatalysts and natural products.

A special feature of this book is the highlighting of the databases and computer programs used in each study; they are listed along with their sites in order to facilitate the computer assisted analysis of the vast amount of data generated by metagenomic studies. Such studies in a variety of habitats are described here which present a large number of different system dependent approaches in greatly differing habitats.

Handbook of Molecular Microbial Ecology II is an invaluable reference for researchers in metagenomics, microbial ecology, microbiology and environmental microbiology, those
