Handbook of Cross-Cultural and Multicultural Personality Assessment Richard H. Dana,2000-02 Throughout the world as in the United States psychologists are increasingly being called upon to evaluate clients whose backgrounds differ from their own It has long been recognized that standard personality and psychopathology assessment instruments carry cultural biases and in recent years efforts to correct these biases have accelerated The Handbook of Cross Cultural and Multicultural Personality Assessment brings together researchers and practitioners from 12 countries with diverse ethnic and racial identities and training to present state of the art knowledge about how best to minimize cultural biases in the assessment of personality and psychopathology They consider research methodology the design and construction of standard objective and projective tests the use of measures of acculturation racial identity and culture specific tests the social etiquette of service delivery and the interpretation of test data for clinical diagnosis Ranging widely through all the relevant issues they share a common collective vision of how culturally competent services should be delivered to clients The Handbook offers the first comprehensive view of a consistent approach to cultural competence in assessment a necessary precursor of effective intervention It will become an indispensable reference for all those whose practice or research involves individuals with different ethnic and racial identities

Manual of the Junior Eysenck Personality Inventory Sybil Bianca Giuletta Eysenck, 1965 Religion, Education and Society Elisabeth Arweck, Robert Jackson, 2016-03-16 This volume presents findings from recent research focusing on young people and the way they relate to religion in their education and upbringing The essays are diverse and multidisciplinary in terms of the religions they discuss including Christianity Islam and Sikhism the settings where young people reflect on religion the classroom youth club peer group families respective religious communities and wider society the different perspectives which relate to religious education and socialisation the teaching of RE the role of teachers in pupils lives the way teachers personal lives shape their approach to teaching school ethos and social context and the place and rationale of RE the contexts within which the authors work different national settings and various academic disciplines and the methodology used qualitative quantitative and mixed method approaches The authors make important contributions to the debate about the role of religious education in the curriculum They demonstrate the crucially important formative influence of religious education in young people s lives which reaches well into their adulthood shaping religious and other identities and attitudes towards the other whatever that other may be This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Beliefs Values
