Lesson 3 Fotonovela Book 2:

Good Question Michael Emme, 2017-09-14 Good Question is a textbook intended for children and youth teachers and researchers interested in doing collaborative research in their community. The volume starts out as a comic book research methods textbook that intends to introduce children and youth to the fundamental structure of the research process, its elements and steps as well as with the research activities associated with the different aspects of research practice in general and arts-based image-based research in particular. This unique approach allows children and youth to learn the craft of research in a playful way and to become knowledgeable and competent co-researchers with adults contributing to all phases of the study's design. The volume encourages teachers and researchers to see the important role of play in teaching children and young people about the research process and gives them the tools to engage children and youth in playful arts-based image-based inquiries. The complexity of exploring collaborative research required an innovative way of overcoming the linearity of a paper-bound print text and the way we read it. The volume is intentionally organized in three sections starting with the comic book because it invites an openness to layered non-linear research literacy. The volume also includes an anthology of research examples of conducting arts-based image-based research with children and several theoretical essays focused on play as research and collaborative arts-based image-based research. The later sections featuring research examples and theory though heavily illustrated have been peer-reviewed and formatted more in the academic tradition. Thus Good Question represents an attempt to make sense of children's playful engagement in arts-based image-based inquiry activities with adults as research. By playing with the forms and traditions of the comic book, the research methods textbook and the academic book together we have attempted to respectfully disassemble and reassemble book form. We invite readers to discover those research conventions that are capable of establishing what is gathered and presented here as collaborative research with children. We imagine this volume contributing to the quest for new ways of living together of generating more and more incisive and inclusive dialogues. Greene 1994 p 459 as both a personal and a collective endeavor. Critical Race Spatial Analysis Deb Morrison, Subini Ancy Annamma, Darrell D. Jackson, 2023-07-03 How does space illuminate educational inequity? Where and how can spatial analysis be used to disrupt educational inequity? Which tools are most appropriate for the spatial analysis of educational equity? This book addresses these questions and explores the use of critical spatial analysis to uncover the dimensions of entrenched and systemic racial inequities in educational settings and identify ways to redress them. The contributors to this book, some of whom are pioneering scholars of critical race spatial analysis theory and methodology, demonstrate the application of the theory and tools applied to specific locales and in doing so illustrate how this spatial and temporal lens enriches traditional approaches to research. The opening macro-theoretical chapter lays the foundation for the book, rooting spatial analyses in critical commitments to studying injustice. Among the innovative methodological chapters included in this book is the re-conceptualization of mapping and space beyond the simple exploration of external spaces to considering internal geographies highlighting how the privileged may differ in socio spatial thinking from oppressed communities and what may be learned from both perspectives data representations that allow the construction of varied narratives based on differences in positionality and historicity of perspectives the application of redlining to the analysis of classroom interactions the use of historical archives to uncover the process of marginalization and the application of techniques such as the fotonovela and GIS to identify how spaces are defined and can be reimagined The book demonstrates the analytical and communicative power of mapping and its potential for identifying and dismantling racial injustice in education The editors conclude by drawing connections across sections and elucidating the tensions and possibilities for future research Contributors Benjamin Blaisdell Graham S Garlick Leigh Anna Hidalgo Mark C Hogrebe Joshua Radinsky Daniel G Sol rzano William F Tate Ver nica N V lez Federico R Waitoller Aids
