Church School Journal, 1890 Another Day's Journey in the Life of a Black Church Gloria Denise Warren, 1996

Family life is both a universal and diverse experience in human society with each culture proffering an adaptive formula for family life roles Family life represents a set of customs that have evolved in the context of history and in response to adverse factors in the environment This suggests that inherent in informal instruction about family life is the implied responsibility of accomplishing cultural goals The purpose of this study was to examine 1 how does the Black Baptist church preserve African American culture and family life 2 how is family life taught through rituals and symbolic roles in the Black Church and 3 how do Vygotsky's theory and concepts explain the cultural and cognitive process of passing on instruction for family life

Ethnographic field methods were used to both collect and analyze data The data consisted of twenty six informant interviews a series of thirty observations of Black Church scenarios and a Women's Christian conference address Findings revealed that underlying the social and historical process in the Black Church is an African worldview in which knowledge about family life is constructed as a shared experience with the community of believers This shared experience is one in which ritual specialists the pastor ministers deacons and church mothers become key transmitters of culture and teachers of family life education Abstract
