Cases on Models and Methods for STEAM Education Bazler, Judith Ann, Van Sickle, Meta Lee, 2019-09-27 STEAM education can be described in two ways One model emphasizes the arts and is not as concerned about the accuracy of the STEM fields In the second model STEM content is the prevailing force with a focus on accuracy and the arts are used in limited and secondary resources for the teaching of the content However in order to promote creative thinking allow for higher student engagement and offer a more well rounded education a STEAM model where science technology engineering arts and mathematics are equal contributors to the process of learning is needed Cases on Models and Methods for STEAM Education is an important scholarly resource that provides inclusive models and case studies highlighting best techniques and practices for implementing STEAM models in teaching and assists teachers as they learn to use such methods through the inclusion of practical activities for use in the classroom Highlighting a wide range of topics such as science education fine arts and teaching models this book is essential for educators administrators curriculum developers instructional designers policymakers academicians researchers and students Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C.

Thompson, 2017-09-11 The GCC is a major player in the post 2011 reordering of the Middle East Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states especially Kuwait Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices Both developments along with dramatic demographic change have compelled state and citizens to re evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy The book shows how academic social and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment and states are obliged to seek wider counsel although wanting to retain ultimate authority With contributions from both academics and practitioners this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike

Flow and Transformations in Porous Media Renaud Toussaint, Bjørnar Sandnes, Daniel Koehn, Piotr Szymczak, Einat Aharonov, 2017-02-07 Fluid flow in transforming porous rocks fracture networks and granular media is a very active interdisciplinary research subject in Physics Earth Sciences and Engineering Examples of natural and engineered processes include hydrocarbon recovery carbon dioxide geo sequestration soil drying and wetting pollution remediation soil liquefaction landslides dynamics of wet or dry granular media dynamics of faulting or friction volcanic eruptions gas venting in sediments karst development and speleogenesis ore deposit development and radioactive waste disposal Hydrodynamic flow instabilities and pore scale disorder typically result in complex flow patterning In transforming media additional mechanisms come into play compaction de compaction erosion segregation and fracturing lead to changes in permeability over time Dissolution precipitation and chemical reactions between solutes and solids may gradually alter the composition and structure of the solid matrix either creating or destroying permeable paths for fluid flow A complex dynamic feedback thus arises where on the one hand the fluid flow affects the characteristics of the porous medium and on the other hand the changing medium influences the fluid flow This Research Topic Ebook presents current research illustrating the depth and breadth of ongoing work in the field of flow and transformation in porous media through 15 papers by 72 authors from around the world The body of work highlights the challenges posed by the vast range of length and time scales over which subsurface flow processes occur Importantly phenomena from each scale contribute to the larger scale behavior The flow of oil and gas in reservoirs and the flow of groundwater on catchment scale is sensitively linked to pore scale processes and material heterogeneity down to the micrometer scale The geological features of the same reservoirs and catchments evolved over millions of years sometimes as a consequence of cracking and fracture growth occurring on the time scale of microseconds The research presented by the authors of this Research Topic represents a step toward bridging the separation of scales as well as the separation of scientific disciplines so that a more unified picture of flow and transformation in porous media can start to emerge
