Lesson Study as Pedagogic Transfer Kanako N. Kusanagi, 2022-11-01 This book examines education transfer specifically focusing on pedagogic transfer and analyzes what happens when lesson study is introduced into foreign contextual settings Lesson study a professional development approach that originated in Japan 150 years ago has been widely considered one of the best practices for collaborative professional development There is an underlying assumption behind education transfer that when best practice is transferred to another country it will generate a similar effect and improve schooling quality Since pedagogic practice is socially constructed the best practice in one setting may not be meaningful in another contextual setting This book makes a unique contribution to the field of comparative education by offering a sociological examination of why pedagogic transfer often fails to bring expected benefits It is comprised of three parts Part I Pedagogic Transfer and Lesson study provides contextualized analysis of lesson study in Japan and abroad and presents how the meaning of practice is always reinterpreted against the local educational context Part II presents a sociological analysis of Indonesian teachers practice based on ethnographic fieldwork It conceptually analyses the nature of the teacher community and their practice and is presented as teacher strategies The concept showed that teacher culture and practice are not fixed but constantly negotiated within the institutional setting Part III Sociological Understanding of Pedagogic Transfer builds on the analyses in Part I and II and provides a theoretical understanding of the issue of pedagogic transfer Professional responsibilities of teachers collegiality and teaching expertise in Japan and Indonesia are compared to understand how the meaning of lesson study was reconstructed in the Indonesian setting In conclusion recommendations for an alternative approach to professional development are offered

Pedagogical Responsiveness in Complex Contexts Elizabeth Walton, Ruksana Osman, 2022-09-22 This book reflects a range of pedagogical responses to increasingly complex educational contexts It finds this complexity in the interplay of a number of factors including the diverse histories and identities of educational actors institutional and systemic demands and constraints competing conceptions of valued knowledge and technological change The chapters show the demand for pedagogical response to unexpected and unprecedented events like COVID 19 and the importance of addressing barriers to access that become sedimented into institutional cultures The authors mostly from Global South contexts are concerned with enabling educational access and inclusion in the face of competing global and local demands They present new knowledge about pedagogical approaches that are relevant and effective in uncertain times and challenging places Together the contributors offer accounts of hope full and innovative practice and conceptually rigorous engagement with fundamental issues of learning and teaching

South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa's leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90/10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people s future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI

In Pursuit of Epistemic Healing in South African Universities Wanelisa Xaba, 2025-09-30 This book demonstrates the epistemic challenges in the South African education system and asks readers to think critically about the university s role in a decolonial future Wanelisa Xaba reveals how Western colonial educational models severed indigenous ways of knowing and learning across the Global South and settler colonial contexts Presenting narratives capturing ongoing histories of violence this book shows how Black South African students navigate intersecting identities of race class gender and spirituality within university settings It shows how racial discrimination from fellow students academics and staff coupled with discriminatory language policies financial exclusion and violent colonial curricula affects Black students wellbeing on university campuses Xaba argues that these intersecting colonial violences mirror spiritual violence hinder their holistic citizenship in South African universities and result in psycho spiritual disease By centring Black students voices this book provides crucial insights for educators policymakers activists healers and institutions committed to creating affirming academic spaces and epistemic healing It is an insightful read for scholars researching decoloniality in higher education as well as students of feminist studies decolonial theory educational justice and critical university studies
