Christensen,2004 Written for the introductory research methods course often required in most colleges of education in the United States this up to date highly readable volume takes an even handed approach to the different types of educational research in order to enable readers to become critical consumers of research and potential users of research It also helps prepare the student to summarize research literature write a research proposal develop a data collection instrument and test an idea empirically Business Research Donald

R. Cooper,2018-08-24 Business Research A Guide to Planning Conducting and Reporting Your Study bridges the academic foundation and the practical application of research methodology through an in depth and insightful tour of the research process exploring planning creating conducting collecting analyzing and reporting The text weaves together timeless principles emerging ideas contemporary examples and modern tools in a narrative that is both authoritative and supportive Integrating a unique Roadmap framework throughout Business Research navigates students from the start of their initial inquiry to their final stop in reporting their findings building their confidence as they move point to point in their journey Written with exceptional clarity and focus Donald Cooper has created a guide to research that will be valuable to students in their academic pursuits as well as their professional careers Researching Private Supplementary Tutoring Mark Bray,Ora Kwo,Boris Jokić,2016-03-01 Private supplementary tutoring widely known as shadow education because of the way that it

mimics mainstream schooling has greatly expanded worldwide It consumes considerable family resources provides employment for tutors occupies the time of students and has a backwash on regular schools Although such tutoring has become a major industry and a daily activity for students tutors and families the research literature has been slow to catch up with the phenomenon The topic is in some respects difficult to research precisely because it is shadowy Contours are indistinct and the actors may hesitate to share their experiences and perspectives Presenting methodological lessons from diverse cultures the book contains chapters from both high income and low income settings in Asia Caribbean Europe and the Middle East Separately and together the chapters present valuable insights into the design and conduct of research The book will assist both consumers and producers of research Consumers will become better judges of the strengths weaknesses and orientations of literature on the theme and producers will gain insights for design of instruments collection of data and interpretation of findings The editors Mark Bray is UNESCO Chair Professor in Comparative Education at the University of Hong Kong Ora Kwo is an Associate Professor in the Comparative Education Research Centre at the University of Hong Kong Boris Joki is a Scientific Associate in the Centre for Educational Research and Development at the Institute for Social Research in Zagreb Croatia

Culture, Transnational Education and Thinking Niranjana Casinader, 2014-04-24 The notion of thinking skills as a key component of a 21st century school education is now firmly entrenched in educational policy and curriculum frameworks in many parts of the world However there has been relatively little questioning of the manner in which educational globalisation has facilitated this diffusion of thinking skills curriculum and pedagogy in a cultural context This book will help to redress such an imbalance in its critical assessment of the cross cultural validity of transplanting thinking skills programs from one educational system to another on an international scale Culture Transnational Education and Thinking provides an international comparative study of the intersection of three educational concepts culture education and thinking Drawing on case studies from Malaysia South Africa and Australia USA for the purposes of comparative analysis the book employs the context of an international school program in the teaching of thinking skills Future Problem Solving Program International The book explores the associations between Future Problem Solving educators their cultural background and their approaches to thinking evaluating the relevance of transferring thinking skills programs derived in one cultural framework into another The book also discusses the wider implications of these cross cultural comparisons to curriculum and pedagogy within schools and higher education with a particular emphasis on the teaching of multicultural school based classes and cross cultural understandings in teacher education and professional development This book will be of relevance to academics and higher education students who have an interest in the fields of cross cultural and intercultural understanding comparative studies in education and theories and practices of cognition as well as the development of tertiary and secondary curricula and associated pedagogies that specifically acknowledge the cultural diversities of both teacher and learner
