

BANK

A low-angle, upward-looking perspective of a modern skyscraper with a glass curtain wall. The building's facade is composed of dark, rectangular glass panels separated by thin, dark metal mullions. Mounted prominently on the facade are large, three-dimensional, gold-colored letters that spell out the word "BANK". The letters have a thick, blocky design and are affixed to the building, casting shadows on the glass surface below them. The sky is visible in the upper right corner, appearing bright and slightly overcast. The overall composition emphasizes the height and architectural details of the building.
