Marondera Hospital Interview:

Women's Health in Africa Chimaraoke Izugbara, Eleanor Covan, Elizabeth Fugate-Whitlock, 2017-10-02 This edited book includes new policy relevant research on women's health issues in Africa. Scholars explore critical topics from different disciplinary traditions using a variety of research methodologies and data sources. The contributors include African scholars with in-depth knowledge of their home contexts who can furnish nuanced interpretations of local health issues and trends; international researchers who bring vigorous comparative viewpoints; emerging scholars adding to scientific knowledge; and more established researchers with a deep global knowledge of women's health issues. The range of women's health issues is vast, including the HIV epidemic and its impacts, domestic violence, the persistence of homebirths and abortion. In addition, the book investigates emerging health concerns such as CVDs and cancers. Readers will learn that while old health issues have persisted and assumed new dimensions, newer concerns have materialized and are gaining momentum. The inability of health systems to tackle these issues complicates matters in Africa, creating a sense of desperation that can only be successfully confronted through strong political will and strategic planning grounded in further research. This book was originally published as several special issues of Health Care for Women International.

Exporting Chinese Architecture Charlie Qiuli Xue, Guanghui Ding, 2022-08-18 This book studies the unexplored history of China-aided architecture erected in the developing world since the 1950s. By 2019, over 1,000 buildings had been delivered to more than 160 countries, including parliament houses, convention centers, stadiums, gymnasiums, theaters, schools, hospitals, libraries, railways, and stations. These projects, which have played a significant role in promoting economic transformation, cultural engagement, and social and environmental well-being, have largely been overlooked or misunderstood by the international community. Why did China donate so many foreign aid buildings? How were these buildings built in the remote land of developing countries with intricate influences and limited resources? Have they helped modernize the recipient countries? The authors of this book use a wide range of representative projects built in different historic periods and geographical locations as case studies to address the above questions from various perspectives. This book fills an enormous gap in modern architecture in China and the world. It offers architectural students and scholars in various disciplines the necessary knowledge on diplomatic architecture, informs architects the appropriate methods of cross-border design, and low-tech building, teaches government officials the best practice of donating and receiving foreign aid buildings, and enhances public awareness of cultural diversity in Asia, Africa, Oceania, and Latin America. With abundant first-hand materials, historical pictures, and drawings, the book is a must-read for those who are interested in modern architecture and developmental aid in the world. China's architecture abroad, notably in Africa and Asia, has been perceived with both fascination and anxiety. Based on a wealth of sources, often difficult to access for scholars from outside China, this book links the history and present of China's architectural mobilities in ways that will stimulate new debates in architectural history and urban studies. ukasz Stanek, Professor of Architectural History, The
