making sure the fun loving Taral didn't marry the wrong man. But before Taral could have a proper wedding, affairs of the heart had to be set aside for a far more dangerous concern: a concern that threatened the survival of the entire clan RALIN. He wanted nothing more than to die, but six months after he lost his beloved Kindel Walrick, he found himself in a new land with people who wanted him to become their laird. After years of living next to a threatening neighbor, the extreme loss of life from the plague made the MacGreagors more vulnerable and falling in love much more difficult for Ralin. Would Neil find a way to save his people and would Walrick accept a challenge to lead the other clan STEPPEN? Laird Neil MacGreagor did the best he could to save their lives, but now the MacGreagors were without a homeland. Then three different rumors began to circulate: one started by the MacDonalds, one by the Fergusons, and one by someone in the north. With Neil's son in Steppen's charge, she had no place to go and no one to turn to. She'd loved Walrick all her life, but could she ever forgive him for not coming back? EDANA: A new home meant new problems, which laird would they follow? Where would they build new cottages, and how could Walrick marry Steppen when Neil forgot to bring the priest? SLADE: MacGreagor had problems of his own. Attempting to locate his clan in an unfamiliar land, he happened upon nine sisters who desperately needed his help. SLAVA: Slava had a secret, and once she told her sister Charlotte, all nine sisters decided to leave, even the betrothed Edana. JESSUP: Was ready to throttle a reluctant Lucas. TARAL: Was growing fonder of Geddes and Walrick finally had his priest. But when the sisters left, so did the singing, and the hopes of several unmarried men. Would the sisters ever want to come back, and if so, would the MacGreagors have to fight another clan to get them?
