Karin Nielsen-Saines

Joint Examination For Civic Education Question For 2015:

The Politics of Civic Education Eleni M. Mantas-Kourounis, 2024-06-10 This book chronicles the progression of civic education advocacy since the early 2000s. It identifies the main actors that called for civic education reform, describes their motivations and policy platforms, and documents the path taken to capture state policy agendas. It argues that No Child Left Behind incentivized civic education advocates to mobilize a call to action to restore emphasis on civics that materialized into national policy reform proposals that successfully captured the agendas of state legislatures and bureaucracies. This book analyzes the implementation and sustainability of these civic education policy reforms by undertaking a comparative case study analysis of school districts in Utah and Connecticut. Through the voices of teachers and district administrators, the book tells the story of what happened when these state policy reforms inspired by national initiatives hit the local level where the rubber meets the road. As ideological debates about schools and democracy unfold across the country as civic education advocates and proposals proliferate, this book treats civic education not as a panacea but as a concrete policy area to be analyzed and understood. It contextualizes the current debate and offers a critical assessment of the most recent comprehensive state level civic education policy reform. It argues that while questions linger about what type of civic inspired educational interventions remains most effective for whom, where and why the implementation of such interventions are profoundly impacted by local actors and local politics, and that future initiatives should take this dimension into consideration.

The Intersection of International Achievement Testing and Educational Policy Louis Volante, 2016-06-10 Educational systems around the world look to student assessment programs as they initiate reforms and revise educational policies to increase student achievement. This edited volume examines the intersection of international achievement testing and education policy development in key countries around the world, exploring how assessments can inform curriculum pedagogy, strategic planning, and ultimately determine large scale education policy and governance. Noted chapter contributors explore how educational leadership and governance issues have been influenced by assessment programs across a range of political, economic, cultural, and educational contexts. The Intersection of International Achievement Testing and Education Policy provides educators, academics, and policymakers with cultural insights, historical contexts, and a framework for negotiating and understanding the consequences of educational policy decisions in schools.

Faith-based Identity and Curriculum in Catholic Schools Jim Gleeson, Peta Goldberg, 2019-11-25 Faith based Identity and Curriculum in Catholic Schools examines the relationship between faith based education and whole curriculum at a time when neoliberal ideologies and market values are having a disproportionate influence on national education policies.
