Wagner, 2025-11-25 In this groundbreaking second edition of Learning as Development Daniel A Wagner transforms our understanding of international development by positioning learning at its core Through a compelling global lens Wagner demonstrates how education shapes both individual destinies and national futures with real consequences for income social mobility health and well being This new edition provides timely perspectives on education's role in an increasingly interconnected and challenged world. The work traces international development from pre-colonial times to today's learning equity movement, explores how people learn across different cultures and contexts, examines the intersection of education with critical global challenges including climate change, migration, civil conflict, and new technologies, and presents cutting-edge research through vivid, context-rich examples. Essential reading for students, practitioners, and policymakers in education, human development, sociology, anthropology, and global development. Wagner's analysis offers fresh insights into human potential for those who care about improving the lives of people across the globe.

Human Resources Development Review 2008 Andre Kraak, Karen Press, 2008. Through 25 chapters authored by some of the leading researchers in the field, the Human Resources Development Review 2008 provides an extensive overview of the contextual factors driving human resources development in South Africa. A key theme throughout the volume is the importance of a multi-faceted skills development strategy operating at three levels. The first entails high skills policies aimed at expanding export-oriented manufacturing production and services provision, particularly in new globally competitive niche areas. The second relates to the economy's ongoing need for intermediate skills, as is evident in the shortage of skilled artisans and technologists. Finally, the provision of basic entry-level skills is important in view of the urgent need for large-scale job creation schemes triggered by public sector initiatives to ameliorate high levels of unemployment and despondency, especially amongst the youth.
