However there are a few nifty tricks that will let you limit the bulk of the work you'll do. Whether you're looking into building a custom motorcycle or simply building your dream bike, having the right tools will help keep your costs down and guarantee a great result. So you won't be a true builder. The best method when deciding building your first bike is to have more confidence in yourself. That may be some of the best decisions you'll make as a motorcycle builder. You would be surprised how many people build great bikes. Not everybody is a dud and many of them come from completely different backgrounds and environments. Custom motorcycle builders have a wide range of skillsets. Just like a professional musician, a motorcycle builder tends to have their own workflow and things. One thing for certain, all of them started somewhere. If you have no prior experience building your own custom bike, when you're one of the common users, you might have a better understanding of the process and the tools for you to work on and build your own custom motorcycle. Builders have their own methods other than just riding. One of the best would be building a motorcycle. The resulting lack of satisfaction and gratitude when you assembled something that came in pieces is not a very fun bike. You need to have the freedom to find your own discipline and no one is going to work through all the challenges and frustrations to move with the end result. Good thing is, I bet you'd still feel happy when the bike finally rolled out with its details.
