Khalid Malik

Kzn English Paper 2 For 2013:

Language Policy and Planning in Universities Anthony J. Liddicoat, 2018-10-18 In a world where higher education is increasingly internationalised questions of language use and multilingualism are central to the ways in which universities function in teaching research and administration Contemporary universities find themselves in complex linguistic environments that may include national level language policies local linguistic diversity an internationalised student body increasing international collaboration in research and increased demand for the use and learning of international languages especially English The book presents a critical analysis of how universities are responding these complexities in different contexts around the world The contributions show that language issues in universities are complex and often contested as universities try to negotiate the national and the international in their work In some contexts universities language policies and the ways in which they are implemented may have a negative impact on their ways of working In other contexts however universities have embraced multilingualism in ways that have opened up new academic possibilities for staff and students Collectively the chapters show that universities language policy and planning are a work in progress and that much further work is needed for universities to achieve their language goals This book was originally published as a special issue of Current Issues in Language Planning

Extended Curriculum Programmes Tennyson Mgutshini, 2022-04-30 The introduction of ECPs in South African Universities is seen by many as South Africa's key strategy for addressing the problem of poor patterns of student success and has its basis on the uncontested acceptance that an extended study duration may be necessary to bring some categories of learners to a level of parity with the readiness expectations of their course of study Even so this transformative strategic imperative has been plagued by a range of challenges that include poor systems readiness poor selection mechanisms in the identification of ECP students poor numeracy and literacy amongst students and indifferent teacher involvement in ECPs This volume offers a rare insight into many of the above recognised challenges and in so doing provides critical matter for thought for educators within the higher education sector

The Ambiguity of English as a Lingua Franca Stephanie Rudwick, 2021-08-29 Grounded in ethnography this monograph explores the ambiguity of English as a lingua franca by focusing on identity politics of language and race in contemporary South Africa The book adopts a multidisciplinary approach which highlights how ways of speaking English constructs identities in a multilingual context Focusing primarily on isiZulu and Afrikaans speakers it raises critical questions around power and ideology The study draws from literature on English as a lingua franca raciolinguistics and the cultural politics of English and dialogues between these fields It challenges long held concepts underpinning existing research from the global North by highlighting how they do not transfer and apply to identity politics of language in South Africa It sketches out how these struggles for belonging are reflected in marginalisation and empowerment and a vast range of local global and glocal identity trajectories Ultimately it offers a first lens through which global scholarship on English as a lingua franca can be decolonised in terms of disciplinary limitations geopolitical orientations and a focus on the politics of race that characterize the use of English as a lingua franca all over the world This book will be of interest to students and researchers in linguistic anthropology sociolinguistics World Englishes ELF and African studies Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015, Volumes 1a & 1b (Set) Union of International Associations, 2014-06-16 Volume 1 A and B covers international organizations throughout the world comprising their aims activities and events South Africa Can Work Frans Rautenbach, 2017-08-18 What will it take to turn South Africa around In this insightful and provocative book Frans Rautenbach proposes a complete overhaul of policy thinking and provides fresh arguments that effectively address South Africa's unemployment race problems and lack of education Rautenbach examines the fundamental problem of rent seeking to which he proposes two antidotes the free market and decentralisation of government Along the way he tackles holy cows such as affirmative action trade unions labour law and welfare payments He also addresses contentious topics such as racism white privilege political correctness state funding of higher education and mounting evidence that trade unions substantially suppress employment growth Written by a labour lawyer with a proven track record in a range of policy issues South Africa Can Work speaks effectively to a cross section of readers of all disciplines and brings sorely needed good news Georgetown Journal of International Affairs, Summer/Fall 2014 Medha Raj, Warren Ryan, 2014-09-08 This issue of the Georgetown Journal of International Affairs focuses on the topic of Destabilizing Demographics exploring the opportunities and challenges presented by dynamic population patterns and structures Demographic shifts affect multiple facets of international affairs impacting economies modifying politics and reshaping the fabric of our societies These changes could have catastrophic international consequences if ignored or evaded This edition concludes with articles regarding decidedly twenty first century concerns communication integration and globalization The Georgetown Journal of International Affairs is the official publication of the Edmund A Walsh School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University Each issue of the journal provides readers with a diverse array of timely peer reviewed content penned by top policymakers business leaders and academic luminaries Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience Methodology of Islamic Economics Necmettin
