English Language as Hydra Vaughan Rapatahana, Pauline Bunce, 2012-06-22 English Language as Hydra argues that far too often the English language industry has become a swirling beguiling monster unashamedly intent on challenging local lingua diversity and threatening individual identities This book brings together the voices of linguists literary figures and teaching professionals in a wide ranging expos of this enormous Hydra in action on four continents

Between Worlds Linda Chisholm, 2017-11-30 How the story of how missionary schools adopted the Bantu education reforms gives insight into the ongoing legacy of the apartheid in the South African educational system The transition from apartheid to the post apartheid era has highlighted questions about the past and the persistence of its influence in present day South Africa This is particularly so in education where the past continues to play a decisive role in relation to inequality Between Worlds German Missionaries and the Transition from Mission to Bantu Education in South Africa scrutinises the experience of a hitherto unexplored German mission society probing the complexities and paradoxes of social change in education It raises challenging questions about the nature of mission education legacies Linda Chisholm shows that the transition from mission to Bantu Education was far from seamless Instead past and present interpenetrated one another with resistance and compliance cohabiting in a complex new social order At the same time as missionaries complied with the new Bantu Education dictates they sought to secure a role for themselves in the face of demands of local communities for secular state controlled education When the latter was implemented in a perverted form from the mid 1950s one of its tools was textbooks in local languages developed by mission societies as part of a transnational project with African participation Introduced under the guise of expunging European control Bantu Education merely served to reinforce such control The response of local communities was an attempt to domesticate and master the foreign body of the mission so as to create access to a larger world This book focuses on the ensuing struggle fought on many fronts including medium of instruction and textbook content with concomitant sub texts relating to gender roles and sexuality South Africa s educational history is to this day informed by networks of people and ideas crossing geographic and racial boundaries The colonial legacy has inevitably involved cultural mixing and hybridisation with paradoxically parallel pleas for purity Chisholm explores how these ideas found expression in colliding and coalescing worlds one African the other European caught between mission and apartheid education

The Ambiguity of English as a Lingua Franca Stephanie Rudwick, 2021-08-29 Grounded in ethnography this monograph explores the ambiguity of English as a lingua franca by focusing on identity politics of language and race in contemporary South Africa The book adopts a multidisciplinary approach which highlights how ways of speaking English constructs identities in a multilingual context Focusing primarily on isiZulu and Afrikaans speakers it raises critical questions around power and ideology The study draws from literature on English as a lingua franca raciolinguistics and the cultural politics of English and dialogues between these fields It challenges long held concepts underpinning existing research from the global North by highlighting how they do not transfer and apply to identity politics of language in South Africa It sketches out how these struggles for belonging are reflected in marginalisation and empowerment and a vast range of local global and glocal identity trajectories Ultimately it offers a first lens through which global scholarship on English as a lingua franca can be decolonised in terms of disciplinary limitations geopolitical orientations and a focus on the politics of race that characterize the use of English as a lingua franca all over the world This book will be of interest to students and researchers in linguistic anthropology sociolinguistics World Englishes ELF and African studies
