The Unresolved National Question in South Africa Edward Webster, Karin Pampallis, John Mawbey, Jeremy

Cronin, 2017-03-01 This volume examines the way in which various strands of left thought have addressed the National Question The re emergence of debates on the decolonisation of knowledge has revived interest in the National Question which began over a century ago and remains unresolved Tensions that were suppressed and hidden in the past are now being openly debated Despite this the goal of one united nation living prosperously under a constitutional democracy remains elusive This edited volume examines the way in which various strands of left thought have addressed the National Question especially during the apartheid years and goes on to discuss its relevance for South Africa today and in the future Instead of imposing a particular understanding of the National Question the editors identified a number of political traditions and allowed contributors the freedom to define the question as they believed appropriate in other words to explain what they thought was the Unresolved National Question This has resulted in a rich tapestry of interweaving perceptions The volume is structured in two parts The first examines four foundational traditions Marxism Leninism the Colonialism of a Special Type thesis the Congress tradition the Trotskyist tradition and Africanism The second part explores the various shifts in the debate from the 1960s onwards and includes chapters on Afrikaner nationalism ethnic issues black consciousness feminism workerism and constitutionalism The editors hope that by revisiting the debates not popularly known among the scholarly mainstream this volume will become a catalyst for an enriched debate on our identity and our future

Struggling to Make the Grade: A Review of the Causes and Consequences of the Weak Outcomes of South Africa's Education System Mr. Montfort Mlachila, Tlhalefang Moeletsi, 2019-03-01 While South Africa has made significant improvements in basic and tertiary education enrollment the country still suffers from significant challenges in the quality of educational achievement by almost any international metric The paper finds that money is clearly not the main issue since the South Africa's education budget is comparable to OECD countries as a percent of GDP and exceeds that of most peer sub Saharan African countries in per capita terms The main explanatory factors are complex and multifaceted and are associated with insufficient subject knowledge of some teachers history race language geographic location and socio economic status Low educational achievement contributes to low productivity growth and high levels of poverty unemployment and inequality Drawing on the literature the paper sketches some policy considerations to guide the debate on what works and what does not
