Linde Hydraulic Control (LHC)

Digital electro-hydraulic controller

Instead of a control lever, an electrical motor can operate the drive control technology, instead of a hydraulic actuator, a computer electronic controller instead with a very powerful microcontroller performs all control functions for the drive unit and the working hydraulics (2).

Adaptation to various trucks

The electronic control unit is capable of controlling trucks from a variety of series and with different drive systems. To use different truck parameters and sensors, each truck model has a control that already identifies the truck.

Troubleshooting

The processor of the electronic control unit analyzes analogue and digital signals. The processor recognizes digital mistakes and system errors, and displays an error message on the display/monitor on the seat interface. In addition, the control unit activates a variety of functions according to the error's highest priority.

- Working light flashes
- Reversible limitation of the steering counterbalance angle
- The truck brakes with automatic brake release and off the target mode
- The truck limits its the emergency function, the steering counterbalance angle returns off
- An error code appears on display

These functions can be activated by switching off the counterbalance angle and the target mode. During a fault, the control unit shows whether the error is still present. If the error is no longer present, the truck returns normal operation. If the error persists, the error code appears on the display and one of the measures listed above is performed.

Changing the controller

4.1.1.1.1.1

Problems regarding component damage due to electrostatic discharge (ESD) damage to sensitive elements will occur if the controller is moved.

The controller is equipped with a "float plug" which is attached to the back to avoid static buildup. Grounding cable must be connected to the upper part of the controller and the lower end to the back suspension.

If the controller is replaced, the personnel wear part controller must be identified and plug adapted to the cable harness. All necessary information is available on the cable harness.
