The Ancient Cliff Dwellers of Mesa Verde Caroline Arnold, 1992 Discusses the native Americans known as the Anasazi who migrated to southwestern Colorado in the first century A D and mysteriously disappeared in 1300 A D after constructing extensive dwellings in the cliffs of the steep canyon walls Mesa Verde Josie Hertz, High above the Four Corners region of the American Southwest where Colorado's mesas stretch toward distant horizons painted in desert pastels lies one of North America's most remarkable archaeological treasures Mesa Verde Spanish for green table rises from the surrounding landscape like a massive natural fortress its flat top crowned with ancient ruins that speak to more than seven centuries of continuous human habitation This extraordinary landscape where sandstone cliffs shelter elaborate stone cities built directly into the rock faces represents the culmination of Ancestral Puebloan civilization and stands as testament to human ingenuity in one of the continent's most challenging environments The story of Mesa Verde begins not with the famous cliff dwellings that capture modern imagination but with the gradual adaptation of ancient peoples to the high desert environment of the Colorado Plateau Around 550 CE small groups of farmers and hunters began establishing permanent settlements on the mesa tops drawn by reliable water sources fertile soil pockets and the defensive advantages offered by the elevated terrain These early inhabitants known today as the Ancestral Puebloans but formerly called the Anasazi represented the continuation of cultural traditions that stretched back thousands of years into the prehistoric Southwest The environmental setting of Mesa Verde profoundly shaped every aspect of life for its ancient inhabitants Situated at an elevation of over 8 000 feet above sea level the mesa experiences a high desert climate characterized by dramatic temperature variations limited precipitation and a short growing season that challenged even the most skilled farmers Winter temperatures can plummet well below freezing while summer days often exceed 90 degrees Fahrenheit creating extreme conditions that demanded sophisticated adaptation strategies from human communities seeking to establish permanent settlements in this demanding landscape name Pueblo a term they used to measure certain sizes for their own settlements Thus while most Americans have heard of the Pueblo and Navajo many remain unfamiliar with distinctions within the tribes The Spaniards interest was understandable because the Pueblo fascinated those who came across their settlements especially those located in desert regions and the sides of cliffs that involved the use of adobe mud stone carving homes out of cliffs One such settlement Oraibi was created around 1100 A D and remains one of the oldest continuously inhabited settlements in North America but the most famous of the cliff dwellings can be found at Mesa Verde which was turned into a national park in the early 20th century about 1500 years after the Ancient Pueblo established the settlement Today s Puebloan tribes are descended from tribes known as the Ancestral Puebloan People one of which was the Anasazi but anthropologists believe that the Anasazi were a common ancestor of every Pueblo group so the Ancient Pueblo are often referred to simply as the Anasazi The name Anasazi came from their enemies it is a Navajo word that means enemy ancestor While that name understandably continues to offend the descendants of the Anasazi it also underscores that there is still a lot of uncertainty regarding the history of the Anasazi In fact it is still unclear what the Anasazi called themselves and though they resided near the Four Corners area of Utah Arizona Colorado and New Mexico for more than 700 years they mysteriously abandoned their settlements shortly after they truly began to flourish around 1050 1150 A D Despite the mystery surrounding the Anasazi it s widely agreed that they occupied Mesa Verde and its unique structures for a period of nearly 700 years beginning as early as the 7th century Thanks to its occupants taking advantage of the surrounding geologic formations Mesa Verde is an amazing collection of cliff dwellings as well as houses that utilize caves and rock overhangs and structures consisting of adobe and sandstone Unfortunately the natural conditions that make Mesa Verde so special also likely played a role in its abandonment with overpopulation and drought forcing inhabitants out near the end of the 13th century Mesa Verde The History of the Ancient Pueblo Settlement covers the establishment of Mesa Verde from its origins until its establishment as a national park Along with pictures footnotes and a bibliography you will learn about Mesa Verde like never before
