Jane Austen A Life Carol Shields:

Jane Austen Carol Shields, 2005-05-31 With the same sensitivity and artfulness that are the trademarks of her award winning novels Carol Shields explores the life of a writer whose own novels have engaged and delighted readers for the past two hundred years In Jane Austen Shields follows this superb and beloved novelist from her early family life in Steventon to her later years in Bath her broken engagement and her intense relationship with her sister Cassandra She reveals both the very private woman and the acclaimed author behind the enduring classics Sense and Sensibility Pride and Prejudice and Emma With its fascinating insights into the writing process from an award winning novelist Carol Shields's magnificent biography of Jane Austen is also a compelling meditation on how great fiction is created Jane Austen Carol Shields, 2001 In this charming book the prizewinning novelist Carol Shields whose novels have themselves been compared to the works of Jane Austen gives us a beautifully written perceptive look at the life of one of the finest and most popular English novelists of all time Jane Austen was born in 1775 in the remote Hampshire village of Steventon Her parents George Austen Rector of Steventon and his wife Cassandra Leigh Austen belonged to what was then called the lesser gentry They were never financially secure but their education and family connections meant they were not at a disadvantage when set beside their wealthier neighbours Jane Austen spent the first 25 years of her life in Steventon and the last eight in nearby Chawton and did most of her writing in these two places She never married although many of her novels are about marriage and always lived with her parents and sister Cassandra Whilst not unaware of the larger political and social goings on at the time she chose a small canvas for her novels preferring to focus on the family as a microcosm through which to explore human nature Sir Walter Scott praised the delicate observation and fine judgement in her novels which she herself characterised as the little bit two inches wide of ivory on which I work with so fine a brush as produces little effect after much labour She died in 1817 at the age of 42 having just begun to find fame as a novelist Jane Austen's life remains fairly opaque she kept no diary that we know of there is no voice recording such as we possess for Virginia Woolf and no photograph as there is of George Eliot 160 Austen letters survive but none written earlier than her 20th year In spite of this Carol Shields has written a wonderfully observant biography of this remarkable writer whose characters are as alive today in their longings as they were two hundred years ago when Austen first gave them breath The Collected Stories of Carol Shields Carol Shields, 2010-07-23 Carol Shields the Pulitzer Prize winner author of the novels Unless The Stone Diaries and Larry's Party was also a renowned short story writer Now readers can enjoy all three of Carol Shields's short story collections Various Miracles The Orange Fish and Dressing Up for the Carnival in one volume along with the previously unpublished story Segue her last With an eye for the smallest of telling details a woman applying her lipstick so the shape of pale raspberry fits perfectly the face she knows by heart and a willingness to explore the most fundamental relationships and the wildest of coincidences Shields illuminates the absurdities and miracles that grace all our lives From a couple who experiences a world without weather to the gentle humor of an elderly widow mowing her lawn while looking back on a life of passion to a young woman abandoned by love and clinging to a slender handrail of hope Shields's enormous sympathy for her characters permeates her fiction Playful charming acutely observed and generous of spirit this collection of stories will delight and enchant Carol Shields fans everywhere Excerpt from The Collected Stories of Carol Shields Let me say it I am an aging woman of despairing good cheer just look into the imaginary camera lens and watch me as I make the Sunday morning transaction over the bread then the flowers my straw tote from our recent holiday in Jamaica my smile my upturned sixty seven year old voice a voice so crying out and clad with familiarity that in fact I can't hear it anymore myself thank God my ears are blocked Lately everything to do with my essence has become transparent neutral Good morning Jane Sexton smiles to one and all such a friendly down to earth woman What a perfect fall day What glorious blooms Why Mr Henning this bread is still warm Can this be true

Thirteen Hands And Other Plays Carol Shields, 2010-06-04 With a Foreword by the Author Before becoming a playwright I was a novelist and one who was often impatient with the requisite description of weather or scenery or even with the business of moving people from room to room I was more interested in the sound of people talking to each other reacting to each other or leaving silences for others to fall into Carol Shields From one of Canada's most beloved authors comes a collection of four works written for the stage including her most popular and highly acclaimed play Thirteen Hands The theatrical form allows Carol Shields strength as a master of dialogue to shine at its brightest as she returns to themes she explores in her prose love family friendship and the hidden meanings and larger truths found beneath the surface of the minutiae of daily life Thirteen Hands and Other Plays is an exhilarating introduction to Shields considerable achievements as a playwright Departures and Arrivals 1990 dramatizes how lives are heightened and enlarged when taken within the frame of public spaces airports train stations public streets so that we all become in a sense actors Thirteen Hands 1993 a musical valorizes a consistently overlooked group in our society the blue rinse set also known as the white glove brigade or the bridge club biddies and has had the strongest professional run of all Shields plays Fashion Power Guilt and the Charity of Families 1995 written with her daughter Catherine Shields interrogates the ambivalence felt towards families the drive we all share to find or create some kind of family and the equally strong desire to escape the family's fury Anniversary 1998 written with Dave Williamson is a domestic drama of discontented middle class suburbanites One couple in the play are married and pretending to be close to separation Another couple who are separated are pretending to be married The additional irony is that the separated couple are still emotionally together while the married couple have already emotionally separated Was Jane Austen Happy in Bath? Nigel Nicolson, 2003
