To Whom It May Concern:

I highly recommend Ms. Emily Pinkham as a candidate for an elementary school teaching position. I've had multiple and varied interactions with Emily over the past 15 years. Emily was a student at Clear Spring Elementary School where I served as the school's Student Achievement Specialist, a position that involved monitoring the progress of each student. During her years in elementary school, Emily was an excellent student. She was an avid reader and always excelled in her class work. In addition, she was well respected by both teachers and peers.

After graduating from Salisbury University with a Bachelor's Degree, Emily decided to pursue a Masters of Arts in Education through Frostburg State University. Our paths crossed once again. This time, I have the honor of being her Practicum II supervisor. In this capacity, I have observed Emily's teaching skills. Her lesson plans are well developed and demonstrate an innate understanding of child development. She is skilled in the use of technology as a teaching tool, and she utilizes many strategies to meet the needs of the students in the classroom. Diversity within the classroom is great, and through thoughtful interactions within and beyond the school day, she has earned the students' respect. Therefore, she is able to manage the students' behaviors very well. When Emily plans a lesson, she seeks and utilizes multiple resources in order to make her lessons meaningful and effective. Emily reflects upon previous lesson experiences and then applies "best practices" to ensure her students are receiving the highest quality instruction.

I strongly feel that teaching is the right career for Emily, and she has the skills necessary to be a dynamic teacher. Your school and the students will benefit from Ms. Emily Pinkham's many talents.

Sincerely,

Yvonne J. Belt
