Assessment Reform in Education Rita Berry, Bob Adamson, 2011-04-07 This book discusses the recent assessment movements in the eastern and western worlds with particular focuses on the policies implementation and impacts of assessment reform on education A new perspective of assessment sees assessment as a means to enhance learning This book examines the tensions challenges and outcomes intended and unintended of assessment reform arising at the interface of policy and implementation and implementation and student learning The book reviews the experiences insights gained from research and identifies the facilitators and hindrances to effective change It reflects current thinking of assessment and provides the readers with ample background information of assessment development in many countries including USA England Scotland Wales Northern Ireland Australia Singapore Taiwan and Hong Kong

Developing a Networked School Community Mal Lee, Glenn Finger, 2010-04-01 Developing a Networked School Community A guide to realising the vision examines the next phase of schooling the development of networked school communities Already there are pathfinding schools that have moved from the traditional paperbased form to become digital schools Many of these schools understand the new and rich learning and teaching opportunities which become possible when they dismantle their traditional school walls and use their networks to connect with their homes and the wider community

Changing Schools in an Era of Globalization John Chi-Kin Lee, Brian J. Caldwell, 2012-04-27 Much has been written about globalization and the challenge of preparing young people for the new world of work and life in times of complexity and continuous change However few works have examined how globalization has and will continue to shape education in the East This volume discusses education within the context of globalization and examines what is occurring in schools and systems of education in the People s Republic of China Hong Kong Chinese Taipei Singapore and Australia Closer examination of recent developments and current trends reveal the same turbulence and a range of common issues in areas such as assessment curriculum leadership management of change pedagogy policy professional capacity and technology This volume demonstrates the commonalities and differences and offers tremendous insight into the way things are done in places where student achievement is high but there is also a sense of urgency in continuing an agenda of change

Educating for Sustainability in Primary Schools Neil Taylor, Frances Quinn, Chris Eames, 2015-06-17 Education for Sustainability is a key priority in today s schools as our society seeks to find a balance between environmental social cultural political and economic imperatives that affect our future As young children will become the next generation of adults it is vital that they are educated about sustainability issues so that they can learn to make informed decisions and take positive action for a sustainable world Teachers are ideally placed to educate for sustainability issues and indeed have a responsibility to do so However they often lack support and experience in this area and constraints of current curriculum priorities can inhibit Education for Sustainability being taught effectively in many classrooms Educating for Sustainability in Primary Schools Teaching for the Future addresses this problem by showing how

Education for Sustainability can be developed within and across all areas of the primary curriculum in the Australian and New Zealand contexts The book provides a range of educational approaches and examples of activities to support teachers in addressing national requirements for teaching the major primary curriculum learning areas while simultaneously educating for sustainability This integrative approach to primary education can promote knowledge of positive attitudes towards and suitable action for sustainability in relevant meaningful enjoyable and creative ways This book is a valuable resource for all primary teachers who wish to make a real difference to educating children for the future
