Life Orientation June Question Paper 23:

Towards an Ethics of Community James Olthuis, 2006-01-01 How do we deal with difference personally interpersonally nationally Can we weave a cohesive social fabric in a religiously plural society without suppressing differences This collection of significant essays suggests that to truly honour differences in matters of faith and religion we must publicly exercise and celebrate them The secular sacred public private divisions long considered sacred in the West need to be dismantled if Canada or any nation state is to develop a genuine mosaic that embraces fundamental differences instead of a melting pot that marginalizes An ethics of difference starts with a recognition of difference not as deviance or deficit that threatens but as otherness to connect with cherish and celebrate The book begins with the suggestion that our inability to come to terms with social plurality is not fundamentally the fault of religious differences and that a public private split inadequately deals with matters of basic difference It then explores how encouraging people to live out their respective faiths may open new possibilities for respectful honourable and just negotiations of contemporary dilemmas arising out of the multicultural fabric of Canadian life Towards an Ethics of Community introduces readers to some of the most challenging and divisive dilemmas we face in this increasingly pluralistic postmodern world issues such as family and domestic violence Aboriginal rights homosexuality and public policy and female genital mutilation This is a book truly global in scope and significance
