Product Introduction

Soil temperature and humidity sensor is a high precision, high sensitivity soil moisture measurement instrument. The electromagnetic wave pulse emitted by the sensor is transmitted to the probe via coaxial cable, and then enters the soil medium to measure the apparent dielectric constant of the soil, so as to obtain the real moisture content of the soil. It has the characteristics of fast, accurate, stable and reliable, and is not affected by the chemical fertilizer and metal ions in the soil. The instrument can be widely used in soil moisture monitoring, water-saving irrigation, greenhouse, grassland and pasture, soil speed measurement and other fields.

Agricultural Impacts of Climate Change [Volume 1] Rohitashw Kumar, Vijay P Singh, Deepak Jhajharia, Rasoul Mirabbasi, 2019-11-25 Conservation agriculture is a sustainable production model that not only optimizes crop yields but also reaps economic and environmental benefits as well. The adoption of successful conservation agriculture methods has resulted in energy savings, higher organic matter content, and biotic activity in soil, increased crop water availability, and thus resilience to drought, improved recharge of aquifers, less erosion, and reduced impacts from the weather associated with climate change in general. Agricultural Impacts of Climate Change examines several important aspects of crop production such as climate change, soil management, farm machinery, and different methods for sustainable conservation agriculture. It presents spatial distribution of a daily, monthly, and annual precipitation concentration indices, Diffuse Reflectance Fourier Transform Infrared Spectroscopy for analyzing the organic matter in soil, and adaptation strategies for climate-related plant disease scenarios. It also discusses solar energy-based greenhouse modeling, precision farming using remote sensing and GIS, and various types of machinery used for conservation agriculture. Features: Examines the effects of climate change on agriculture and the related strategies for mitigation through practical real-world examples. Explores innovative on-farm technology options to increase system efficiency, resulting in improved water usage. Presents examples of precision farming using climate resilient technologies. Computing Technologies for Sustainable Development Prasanna Devi Sivakumar, Raj Ramachandran, Chitra Pasupathi, Prabha Balakrishnan, 2025-02-14 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the First International Research Conference on Computing Technologies for Sustainable Development IRCCTSD 2024 held in Chennai, India, during May 9-10, 2024. These papers have been organized in the following topical sections: Part I: innovations in precision agriculture, techniques and strategies for enhancing agriculture production, classification and prediction analysis in healthcare, animal welfare, and innovations in diagnostics; Part II: video and image processing for security analysis, innovations for smart cities, sustainable practices in e-commerce, challenges and trends; Part III: environmental analysis and protection, inclusive communication techniques, AI for text, audio, image, and video processing, and application of AI for education.

Contemporary Developments in Agricultural Cyber-Physical Systems Karthick, G.S., 2023-08-01 The cultivation of crops plays a very important role in agriculture. However, proper maintenance and management are required. Lack of such management would lead to crop loss or reduced crop yields. Hence, the ability to detect and identify diseases on infected crops is a problem of increasing concern. Real-time disease detection systems do not exist in the current agricultural landscape. It requires tremendous amounts of work, expertise in plant diseases, and excessive processing time. Using precision agriculture techniques combined with AI, a great deal of work is reduced. Contemporary Developments in Agricultural Cyber
