Interest Groups, Water Politics and Governance Richard Meissner, 2015-07-08 The book investigates the role interest groups have played over the years to influence the governments of Lesotho and South Africa the World Bank and project implementation authorities in changing some policy aspects of the Lesotho Highlands Water Project LHWP Some of the issues being agitated by the interest groups are the resettlement of villagers where some of the dams for the projects are being constructed The author argues that interest groups and individuals have the ability to influence the above mentioned institutions and to such an extent that water politics and governance is not the domain of state institutions only

Political Ecology of African Peace Parks Maano Ramutsindela, 2025-11-06 Peace parks are imagined landscapes and seascapes created through narratives and science This book uses a political ecology framework to explore the colonial and uneven geography of peace parks in post independence Africa It illuminates the regional milieus impacting these parks and the consequent socioecological and political dynamics This book curates a space for multiple voices and knowledges of peace parks and highlights the limits to truth claims It presents peace parks as a milieu that enables the assemblage of underexamined concepts in political ecology The book advances four arguments The first is that critical scholarship on the peace parks initiative in Africa and elsewhere has been crowded out by a dominant and well sponsored narrative of these parks Second the ideology of peace parks capitalises on societal aspirations and challenges to wage the war of the mind Third peace parks are a geographical expression of coloniality The fourth argument is that the regional dynamics account for the uneven geography of peace parks in Africa These dynamics reveal the symbiotic relations between politics and ecology The founding of peace parks animates resource politics but also depoliticises the resource question Situated in the ongoing debates on protecting the planet in an unequal world and the pathways for a just society this book will be of interest to researchers of African studies political ecology human geography sociology environmental studies and political science

Local Officials and the Struggle to Transform Cities Claire Bénit-Gbaffou , 2024-02-27 Why are even progressive local authorities with the will to improve seldom able to change cities Why does it seem almost impossible to redress spatial inequalities deliver and maintain basic services elevate impoverished areas and protect the marginalised communities Why do municipalities in the Global South refuse to work with prevailing social informalities and resort instead to interventions that are known to displace and aggravate the very issues they aim to address Local Officials and the Struggle to Transform Cities analyses these challenges in South African cities where the brief post apartheid moment opened a window for progressive city government and made research into state practices both possible and necessary In debate with other progressive moments in large cities in Brazil the USA and India the book interrogates City officials practices It considers the instruments they invent and negotiate to implement urban policies the agency they develop and the constraints they navigate in governing unequal cities This focus on actual officials practices is captured through first hand experience state ethnographies and engaged research These reveal day to day practice that question generalised explanations of state failure in complex urban societies as essential malevolence contextual weakness corruption and inefficiency It is hoped that opening the black box of the workings of state opens paths for the construction of progressive policies in contemporary cities
