Policy Analysis in Education: Examining Diverse Approaches to Increasing Educational Access Maria Teresa Tatto,Justin Bruner,Fida Hussain Chang,Corvell George Cramfield,Tara Miyoko Kintz,Nai-Cheng Kuo,Sandra Kurtti Pylvainen,Andleeb Sharif,2012-09-17 This book originated in a policy analysis class at Michigan State University taught during 2010 Using Professor Tatto s unique approach to teaching policy analysis the professor and students agreed to construct a class that represented a reflective and grounded experience in the policy analysis of a current and relevant issue with global ramifications we began exploring policies that were developed at the global level and that were implemented locally We investigated the surge of globally developed standards and regulations in an effort to improve education Our goal was to learn cross nationally about policies that seek to reform curriculum and instruction under efficiency and global competitiveness arguments such as Education for All EFA and its USA cousin No Child Left Behind NCLB We knew our work would be bounded by the time available in a one semester class and by resource constraints We did exploratory inquiry supported by literature reviews reports on rigorous research studies and in one case an exploratory case study The policies we chose to explore such as EFA and NCLB offered us the opportunity to examine current reform tendencies that are intended to provide access to quality education for all children the preparation of teachers to support diverse populations the organization of schools to accommodate these children in response to vague policy mandates and power issues affecting the different constituencies and stakeholders The effects of these and other policies were difficult to track because research is scant and decisions are frequently made based on ideology or political persuasion Our purpose was to explore the critical issues that originated such policies and to search for documented evidence regarding policy implementation and effectiveness We investigated the factors that seemed to interfere with successful implementation from conceptual theoretical and methodological perspectives In this class we learned that there are not ready set frameworks for policy analysis but rather that these have to be constructed according to the issues that emerge as policies are conceptualized and implemented to fit local contexts and needs The book pays particular attention to the contexts of policy including the evolving conceptualization of global and local systems of governance knowledge regimes and policy spaces The book is designed for faculty and doctoral students in education who are interested in understanding diverse frameworks for policy analysis and for those in the general public who are interested in the policies we analyze here Independent Learning and Literacy Patricia A. Genick, 1997 Elementary Teachers around the country are starving for information on independent learning This has been one of the hot topics in education for the last decade This is a book about learning to learn and how to create an independent classroom that is more student centered than teacher centered It looks at the direct influences that most impact learning N student aptitude classroom instruction and climate context program design school organization and state and district characteristics NEand presents activities and strategies to put to immediate use Elementary Teachers and Administrators A Longwood Professional Book Who's who in American Education, 1990 Acts, Resolutions, and Memorials Arizona, 1993 Literacy California State Library. Butler, 1990 The debate today on a wide range of issues affecting the poor and disadvantaged is between those who have largely given up on the problem of the underclass and whose policies amount to warehousing large segments of society in a state of perpetual dependency and those who believe that people can be free from dependency through the liberation of individual initiative and self improvement from the neighborhood up The role of federal policy should be to encourage and facilitate these liberating forces not to impede them The strategy of empowerment as spelled out in this collection of essays about social issues aims to do that Issues discussed include America s Homeless Federal Housing Voucher Program Social Security Improving Education The Drug War Child Care and Health Care     Resources in Education ,1997     Library Media Connection ,2003     New Jersey Register ,2008     ENC Focus a Magazine for Classroom Innovators ,2000     Training and Development Journal ,1986     Science Instruction in the Middle and Secondary Schools Eugene L.
