Mathematical Literacy Paper 1 June 2011:

Math Education for America? Mark Wolfmeyer, 2013-12-04 Math Education for America analyzes math education policy through the social network of individuals and private and public organizations that influence it in the United States The effort to standardize a national mathematics curriculum for public schools in the U S culminated in 2010 when over 40 states adopted the Common Core State Standards for Mathematics Rather than looking at the text of specific policy documents this book complements existing critical reviews of the national math education curriculum by employing a unique social network analysis Breaking new ground in detailing and theorizing the politics of math education Wolfmeyer argues that the private interests of this network are closely tied to a web of interrelated developments human capital education policy debates over traditional and reform pedagogy the assumed content knowledge deficit of math teachers and the proliferation of profit driven educational businesses By establishing the interconnectedness of these interests with the national math education curriculum he shows how the purported goals of math education reform are aligned with the prevailing political agendas of this social network rather than the national interest

Adolescent Literacies in a Multicultural Context Alister Cumming, 2012-05-04 This book presents results from a four year project addressing the central question What factors challenges and contexts contribute to and constrain literacy achievement among at risk adolescent learners with culturally diverse backgrounds Researchers consider the importance of several interrelated factors that support the development of adolescents literacies in multilingual contexts support from educators community groups families and peers recognition of the multi faceted complexity of literacy through multiple complementary methods of research and assessment approaches to pedagogy that engage learners zones of proximal development in humanistic and purposeful ways and promoting students vocabulary knowledge strategies for reading writing and learning and orientations to engaging with epistemic purposes of literacy critically through multiple media and with self confidence
