Museum Studies, Museums in Postcolonial Europe Dominic Thomas, 2013-09-13 The history of European nation building and identity formation is inextricably connected with museums and the role they play in displaying the acquired spoils and glorious symbols of geopolitical power in order to mobilize public support for expansionist ventures This book examines the contemporary debate surrounding the museum in postcolonial Europe Although there is no consensus on the European colonial experience the process of decolonization in Europe has involved an examination of the museum's place and ethnic minorities and immigrants have insisted upon improved representation in the genealogies of European nation states Museological practices have been subjected to greater scrutiny in light of these political and social transformations In addition to the refurbishment and restructuring of colonial era museums new spaces have also been inaugurated to highlight the contemporary importance of museums in postcolonial Europe as well as the significance of incorporating the perspective of postcolonial European populations into these spaces This book includes contributions from leading experts in their fields and represents a comparative trans historical and transcolonial examination which contextualises and reinterprets to the legacies and experiences of European museums This book was published as a special issue of Africa and Black Diaspora An International Journal Palgrave Handbook of Research in Historical Culture and Education Mario Carretero, Stefan Berger, Maria Grever, 2017-03-07 This volume comprises a broad interdisciplinary examination of the many different approaches by which contemporary scholars record our history The editors provide a comprehensive overview through thirty eight chapters divided into four parts a Historical Culture and Public Uses of History b The Appeal of the Nation in History Education of Postcolonial Societies c Reflections on History Learning and Teaching d Educational Resources Curricula Textbooks and New Media This unique text integrates contributions of researchers from history education collective memory museum studies heritage social and cognitive psychology and other social sciences stimulating an interdisciplinary dialogue Contributors come from various countries of Northern and Southern America Europe and Asia providing an international perspective that does justice to the complexity of this field of study The Palgrave Handbook of Research in Historical Culture and Education provides state of the art research focussing on how citizens and societies make sense of the past through different ways of representing it Artifacts and Allegiances Peggy Levitt, 2015-07-07 What can we learn about nationalism by looking at a country's cultural institutions How do the history and culture of particular cities help explain how museums represent diversity Artifacts and Allegiances takes us around the world to tell the compelling story of how museums today are making sense of immigration and globalization Based on firsthand conversations with museum directors curators and policymakers descriptions of current and future exhibitions and inside stories about the famous paintings and iconic objects that define collections across the globe this work provides a close up view of how different kinds of institutions balance nationalism and cosmopolitanism By comparing museums in Europe the United States Asia and the Middle East Peggy Levitt offers a fresh perspective on the role of the museum in shaping citizens Taken together these accounts tell the fascinating story of a sea change underway in the museum world at large Doing Museology Differently Duncan Grewcock, 2013-09-05 One might believe that museum studies is a stable field of academic inquiry based on a set of familiar institutional forms and functions But as institutions museums have never been stable or singular and neither has the discipline of museum studies Museum studies as a field of academic inquiry has received little critical attention One result of this neglect has arguably been a lack of invention in museum studies another is the distancing of academic museum studies from museum practice Doing Museology Differently charts a different course A critical creative reflection on academic practice the book takes the form of a narrative account of museological fieldwork A research story unfolds challenging academic conventions at the level of its own presentation the book combines critical museum visiting with an autobiographical voice The identification of a previously underexplored interdisciplinary space leads the author to experiment with museum studies using contemporary developments in the theory and practice of human geography The new approaches to museological research and representation that emerge from this unique inquiry challenge assumed institutional and intellectual boundaries and act as a call to further creative experimentation
