Hopkin, 2003 Concentrating on the militarised borderlands of eastern France, this book examines the disjuncture between the patriotic expectations of elites and the sentiments expressed in folksongs, folktales and popular imagery in which issues of sexuality, violence and separation took far greater prominence. Hopkin follows the soldier through his life cycle from greenhorn recruit to grizzled veteran to show how the peasant conscript was separated from his previous life and re-educated in military mores and the response that this transformation elicited from his family and community. BOOK JACKET Le Folklore brabançon, 1929 Le département

Yet the extent to which his realism grows out of his deep and abiding interest in popular art has been neglected. At a time of radical disagreement about the historical, political and social role of popular culture, Champfleury creates a distinctive understanding of the art of the people. Investigating the interplay between the meaning or spirit of popular art and its formal qualities, Champfleury's interpretation is primarily art historical. His approach forms the basis of a realist manifesto for the
