John Berger

Seeing comes before words. The child looks and recognizes before it can speak.

But there is also another sense in which seeing comes before words. It is seeing which establishes our place in the surrounding world; we explain that world with words, but words can never undo the fact that we are surrounded by it. The relation between what we see and what we know is never settled.

The Surrealist painter Magritte commented on this always-present gap between words and seeing in a painting called The Key of Dreams.

McEnroe, Deborah Frances Pokinski, 2002 Critical Perspectives on Art History introduces the complexity of issues and critical debates that characterize art history today Presents themes including postmodernism feminist theory gender and racial stereotypes political correctness multiculturalism and censorship Provides a wide range of authors critics literary scholars art historians and journalists Contrasts different points of view and perspectives Encourages critical analysis and debate Reflects the dynamic force of art in our lives John Akomfrah James Harvey, 2023-08-10 The films of John Akomfrah represent one of the most significant bodies of artistic production in the post war era in Britain yet little attempt has been made to analyse the consistencies and divergences across them James Harvey's John Akomfrah is the first comprehensive analytic engagement with these films offering sustained close engagement with the artist's core thematic preoccupations and aesthetic tendencies His analysis negotiates the contextual and theoretical layers of Akomfrah's rich and complex films from the intermedial diaspora aesthetics of Handsworth Songs 1986 to the intersectional spatial ecopolitics of Purple 2017 Positioning Akomfrah in the burgeoning black British arts and cultural scene of the 1980s as a member of Black Audio Film Collective Harvey traces the evolution of a critical relationship with the postcolonial archive in his early films through analysis of documentaries made for television in the 1990s and up to more recent film installations in museums and galleries

The Feminism and Visual Culture Reader Amelia Jones, 2010 Feminism is one of the most important perspectives from which visual culture has been theorised and historicised over the past 30 years This book brings together a wide array of writings including classic texts and polemical new pieces

The Translator's Turn Douglas Robinson, 1991 Despite landmark works in translation studies such as George Steiner's After Babel and Eugene Nida's The Theory and Practice of Translation most of what passes as contemporary theory on the subject has been content to remain largely within the realm of the anecdotal Not so Douglas Robinson's ambitious book which despite its author's protests to the contrary makes a bid to displace the deconstructive term is apposite here a gamut of earlier cogitations on the subject reaching all the way back to Cicero Augustine and Jerome Robinson himself sums up the aim of his project in this way I want to displace the entire rhetoric and ideology of mainstream translation theory which is medieval and ecclesiastical in origin authoritarian in intent and denaturing and mystificatory in effect from <http://www.jstor.org> Sep 12 2014
