March Life Science Examination Paper Of 2014:

UNESCO science report UNESCO,2015-11-09 There are fewer grounds today than in the past to deplore a North South divide in research and innovation This is one of the key findings of the UNESCO Science Report towards 2030 A large number of countries are now incorporating science technology and innovation in their national development agenda in order to make their economies less reliant on raw materials and more rooted in knowledge Most research and development R D is taking place in high income countries but innovation of some kind is now occurring across the full spectrum of income levels according to the first survey of manufacturing companies in 65 countries conducted by the UNESCO Institute for Statistics and summarized in this report For many lower income countries sustainable development has become an integral part of their national development plans for the next 10 20 years Among higher income countries a firm commitment to sustainable development is often coupled with the desire to maintain competitiveness in global markets that are increasingly leaning towards green technologies The quest for clean energy and greater energy efficiency now figures among the research priorities of numerous countries Written by more than 50 experts who are each covering the country or region from which they hail the UNESCO Science Report towards 2030 provides more country level information than ever before The trends and developments in science technology and innovation policy and governance between 2009 and mid 2015 described here provide essential baseline information on the concerns and priorities of countries that could orient the implementation and drive the assessment of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development in the years to come

Social Entrepreneurship in the Middle East Dima Jamali,Alessandro Lanteri,2016-04-29 This two volume book unveils trends strengths weaknesses and overall dynamics and implications of social entrepreneurship in the Middle East region whilst identifying both opportunities and threats facing social entrepreneurship and supplements through a wealth of insights and examples inspired from practice and current applications

New Paradigms in Ergonomics Neville A. Stanton,Paul M. Salmon,Guy Walker,2020-04-28 The systems in which we work continue to evolve creating emergent problems and often strengthening intractable issues In order to remain relevant and impactful the discipline of ergonomics needs its paradigms to evolve too The aim of this book is to provide researchers and practitioners with new paradigms in the form of ideas concepts theories methods practices and values The chapters take the reader on a journey through underlying theories new ways to apply those theories and emerging domains in which ergonomics is expected to play a greater role Readers of this book will be inspired by these new paradigms in ergonomics and seek to push the boundaries even further The lifeblood of the science depends on continual evolvment and developments to take on the challenges we face in complex sociotechnical systems design and evaluation Perhaps the most significant take home message from this book is the demonstration of how theory maps onto practice As such the only remaining paradigm shift is for these ideas concepts methods and practices to be taken up more widely and the discipline advanced until the next paradigm shift occurs The chapters were originally published as a special issue in the journal Ergonomics      Pharmaceutical Industry and Public Policy in Post-reform India Reji K. Joseph, 2015-07-24 This book examines the impact of economic reforms in India on the pharmaceutical industry and access to medicines It traces the changing production and trade pattern of the industry research and development R D preferences and strategies of Indian pharmaceutical firms patent system alongside pricing policy measures and their shortcomings It also analyses the public health financing system in India driven largely by out of pocket expenditure about 60 per cent and characterised by very high share of medicines in total health expenditure A masterful insight into a topical area the work will be indispensable to those working on pharmaceutical industry and public policy It will be of interest to researchers scholars students and policy makers of economics industrial policy public policy intellectual property rights and health financing

Beyond the Skills Gap Matthew T. Hora, 2019-01-02 2018 Frederic W Ness Book Award AAC U How can educators ensure that young people who attain a postsecondary credential are adequately prepared for the future Matthew T Hora and his colleagues explain that the answer is not simply that students need more specialized technical training to meet narrowly defined employment opportunities Beyond the Skills Gap challenges this conception of the skills gap highlighting instead the value of broader twenty first century skills in postsecondary education They advocate for a system in which employers share responsibility along with the education sector to serve the collective needs of the economy society and students Drawing on interviews with educators in two and four year institutions and employers in the manufacturing and biotechnology sectors the authors demonstrate the critical importance of habits of mind such as problem solving teamwork and communication They go on to show how faculty and program administrators can create active learning experiences that develop students skills across a range of domains The book includes in depth descriptions of eight educators whose classrooms exemplify the effort to blend technical learning with the cultivation of twenty first century habits of mind The study set in Wisconsin takes place against the backdrop of heated political debates over the role of public higher education This thoughtful and nuanced account enriched by keen observations of postsecondary instructional practice promises to contribute new insights to the rich literature on workforce development and to provide valuable guidance for postsecondary faculty and administrators

The Politics of Digital India Pradip Ninan Thomas, 2019-07-11 Transforming India into a digital state has been an objective of successive governments in India However the digital by its very nature is a capricious multi dimensional entity Its operationalization across multiple sectors in India has highlighted the fact that the digital compact with publics in India is a two edged sword On the one hand devices such as mobile phones have enabled access and efficiencies and on the other they have increased the scope for surveillance capitalism and the expansion of governmentality The digital is at the same time a resource commodity and process that is absolutely fundamental to most if not all productive forces across multiple sectors As a part of the Media Dynamics in South Asia series this volume explores the making of digital India and specifically deals with the contradictions of an imperfect democracy internal compulsions and external pressures that continue to play crucial roles in the shaping of the same Mindful of the key roles played by political economy and context and based on conversations with theory and practice it makes a case for critical understanding of the digital embrace in India
