Philosophy, Art(theory), and Literature (Part 1) Yvanka Raynova,2025-11-14 The following essays examine the intricate relationship between philosophy and the arts On the one hand they demonstrate how philosophy has influenced the arts For example they show how Husserl s and Merleau Ponty s reformulation of the affective sphere of the body led to a disruption of the metaphorical order of the body inherent in artistic representation On the other hand they reveal how the analysis of fictional characters can lead to a revision of philosophical ideas such as Husserl s concept of presentification The complex interplay between philosophy and literature is also discussed in depth Finally ethical and axiological problems in theory and praxis that arise in both philosophy and art theory are explored in more detail Together these contributions offer a broader and deeper understanding of the interplay between art and philosophy two fields that have often been at odds Le film

African Diasporic Cinema Daniela Ricci,2020-08-01 African Diasporic Cinema Aesthetics of Reconstruction analyzes the aesthetic strategies adopted by contemporary African diasporic filmmakers to express the reconstruction of identity Having left the continent these filmmakers see Africa as a site of representation and cultural circulation The diasporic experience displaces the center and forges new syncretic identities Through migratory movement people become foreigners Others and in this instance black The African diasporic condition in the Western world is characterized by the intersection of various factors being African and bearing the historical memory of the continent belonging to a black minority in majority white societies and finally having historically been the object of negative stereotyped representation As a result quests for the self and self reconstruction are frequent themes in the films of the African diaspora and yet the filmmakers refuse to remain trapped in the confines of an assigned rigid identity Reflecting these complex circumstances this book analyzes the contemporary diaspora through the prism of cultural hybridization and the processes of recomposing fragmented identities out of which new identities emerge aux dialogues ciselés Philippe Delacour nous offre le récit d'une vengeance brutale. Un album à l'ambiance sombre et crépusculaire qui signe le retour de Hugues Labiano chez Gallimard et rappelle le film noir américain des années 30 et 40. L'album est accompagné d'un cahier de 8 pages pour une plongée sans pareil dans le monde impitoyable de la mafia à la fin de la prohibition.

La règle de l'exception Olivier Alexandre, 2015. Le cinéma français incarne l'exception culturelle. La figure de l'auteur née avec la Nouvelle Vague avant de devenir universelle continue de jouer un rôle central dans l'organisation du secteur. L'exemplaire enquette d'Olivier Alexandre prend le contre-pied des discours habituels pour saisir le système, l'origine de cette singularité française. Au-delà des paillettes et de la rituelle montée des marches cannoises apparaît un monde impitoyable caractérisé par une distribution inégale des chances de s'y imposer. Le cinéma français c'est bien sûr Truffaut et Godard mais c'est également tout un peuple d'outsiders qui s'aggrave aux marges en tentant de survivre. Dans une tude pionnière sur un sujet souvent laissé aux discours enchantés, l'auteur propose une réflexion aiguë sur les concepts utilisés pour définir les univers de création, champ monde et marché, font l'objet d'un examen critique. Il contribue de façon particulièrement novatrice au débat sur le statut de la culture et de ses modes de production. P 4 of cover

The Functional Analysis of Art Richard Raskin, 1983
Livres de France, 2006 European Film Noir Andrew Spicer, 2019-01-04. European Film Noir is the first book to bring together specialist discussions of film noir in specific European national cinemas. Written by leading scholars, this groundbreaking study provides an authoritative understanding of an important aspect of European cinema and of film noir itself, for too long considered as a solely American form. The Introduction reviews the problems of defining film noir, its key characteristics and discusses its significance to the development of European film, the relationship of specific national film noirs to each other, to American noir and to historical and social change. Eight chapters then discuss film noir in France, Germany, Britain and Spain, analysing both earlier developments and the evolution of neo-noir through to the present. A further chapter explores film noir in Italian cinema, where its presence is not so well defined. Each piece provides a critical overview of the most significant films in relation to their industrial and social contexts. European Film Noir is an important contribution to the study of European cinema that will have a broad appeal to undergraduates, cinema studies teachers and researchers.

The Philosophy of Film Noir Mark T. Conard, 2007-08-17. A drifter with no name and no past, driven purely by desire, is convinced by a beautiful woman to murder her husband. A hard-drinking detective, down on his luck, becomes involved with a gang of criminals in pursuit of a priceless artifact. The stories are at once romantic, pessimistic, filled with anxiety and a sense of alienation, and they define the essence of film noir. Noir emerged as a prominent American film genre in the early 1940s, distinguishable by its use of unusual lighting, sinister plots, mysterious characters and dark themes. From The Maltese Falcon (1941) to Touch of Evil (1958), films from this classic period reflect an atmosphere of corruption and social decay that attracted such accomplished directors as John Huston, Alfred Hitchcock, Billy Wilder and Orson Welles. The Philosophy of Film Noir is the first volume to focus exclusively on the philosophical underpinnings of these iconic films.

Drawing on the work of diverse thinkers from the French existentialist Albert Camus to the Frankfurt school theorists Max Horkheimer and Theodor Adorno the volume connects film noir to the philosophical questions of a modern often nihilistic world Opening with an examination of what constitutes noir cinema the book interprets the philosophical elements consistently present in the films themes such as moral ambiguity reason versus passion and pessimism The contributors to the volume also argue that the essence and elements of noir have fundamentally influenced movies outside of the traditional noir period Neo noir films such as Pulp Fiction 1994 Fight Club 1999 and Memento 2000 have reintroduced the genre to a contemporary audience As they assess the concepts present in individual films the contributors also illuminate and explore the philosophical themes that surface in popular culture A close examination of one of the most significant artistic movements of the twentieth century The Philosophy of Film Noir reinvigorates an intellectual discussion at the intersection of popular culture and philosophy
