

A WARNING

Battery gases can cause an explosion.

Do not smoke or permit flame or spark to occur near a battery at any time, particularly when it is being charged. Avoid contacting terminals with tools, etc., to prevent burns and to prevent sparks that could cause an explosion. Remove wristwatch, rings, and any other jewelry before handling battery. Never connect negative (–) battery cable to positive (+) connection terminal of starter solenoid or test battery condition by shorting terminals together. This could result in a spark which could ignite battery gases or fuel vapors in the engine room. Any compartment containing batteries must be well ventilated to prevent accumulation of explosive gases. To avoid sparks, do not disturb battery charger connections while battery is being charged and always turn charger off before disconnecting battery connections. To disconnect battery, remove negative lead first and reconnect it last.

A WARNING

Exposed moving parts can cause severe injury. Keep hands, feet, hair, and clothing away from belts and pulleys when unit is running. Replace guards, covers, and screens before operating generator set.

Exposed moving parts can cause severe injury. Keep hands, hair, necktie, loose clothing, and test leads well away from moving parts, as serious injury could result from entanglement. Some scheduled maintenance procedures require the generator set to be running while performing service. If the sound shield was removed leaving belts and pulleys exposed, be especially careful of this area.

A WARNING

Carbon monoxide can cause severe nausea, fainting, or death.

Use the following precautions when installing and operating generator set. Carbon monoxide is particularly threatening in that it is an odorless, colorless, tasteless, nonirritating gas. Be especially careful if operating the generator when moored or anchored under calm conditions as gases may accumulate. If operating the set dockside, moor your craft so that the exhaust discharges on the lee side (the side sheltered from the wind), and always be mindful of others—make sure your exhaust is directed away from other boats and occupied buildings. Do not install exhaust outlet where exhaust can be drawn through portholes, vents, or air conditioners. If generator set's exhaust discharge hole is near to your craft's water line, DO NOT OVERLOAD CRAFT so as to close or restrict exhaust discharge hole. Exhaust system must be leakproof and routinely inspected.

A WARNING

Hot coolant can cause severe burns.

Do not remove pressure cap while engine is hot. Allow engine to cool and release pressure from cooling system before removing pressure cap. To release pressure, cover the pressure cap with a thick cloth then turn it slowly counterclockwise to the first stop. After pressure has been completely released and the engine has cooled, remove cap. If checking coolant level, do so at coolant recovery tank (if so equipped).

NOTE

ENGINE DAMAGE! Failure to bleed air from cooling system may cause overheating and subsequent damage to engine.
