Turner, 1977 Haiti's Paper War Chelsea Stieber, 2020-08-18 2021 Outstanding Academic Title Choice Magazine Turns to the written record to re-examine the building blocks of a nation Picking up where most historians conclude Chelsea Stieber explores the critical internal challenge to Haiti's post-independence sovereignty a civil war between monarchy and republic What transpired was a war of swords and of pens waged in newspapers and periodicals in literature broadsheets and fliers In her analysis of Haitian writing that followed independence Stieber composes a new literary history of Haiti that challenges our interpretations of both freedom struggles and the postcolonial By examining internal dissent during the revolution Stieber reveals that the very concept of freedom was itself hotly contested in the public sphere and it was this inherent tension that became the central battleground for the guerre de plume the paper war that vied to shape public sentiment and the very idea of Haiti Stieber's reading of post-independence Haitian writing reveals key insights into the nature of literature its relation to freedom and politics and how fraught and politically loaded the concepts of literature and civilization really are The competing ideas of liberty writing and civilization at work within postcolonial Haiti have consequences for the way we think about Haiti's role as an idea and a discursive interlocutor in the elaboration of black radicalism and black Atlantic anticolonial and decolonial thought In so doing Stieber reorders our previously homogeneous view of Haiti teasing out warring conceptions of the new nation that continued to play out deep into the twentieth century

The Complexity of Psychiatric Care, from Pregnancy to Adolescence: Beyond the Endogenous-Exogenous Dichotomy Olivier Putois, Bernard Golse, Veronique Delvenne, Miri Keren, 2024-06-26

Child and adolescent psychiatry hosts a range of diverse epistemological positions regarding the origin of psychical suffering from fully endogenous e g genetic to mostly exogenous e g family trauma etc The complexity of clinical situations generally precludes such epistemologies to require exclusive therapeutic strategies psychodynamic psychotherapy can be fruitful in the context of monogenic genetic illnesses at the family or individual level while pharmacology can be a necessary tool in a variety of difficult relational contexts or personality issues e g in adolescence Thus nowadays the most promising therapeutic perspectives in child and adolescent psychiatry attempt to do justice to the polyfactorial complexity of mental suffering notably by refining their psychopathologies by drawing on e g biopsychosocial or epigenetic models even more so as prevention policies ask for longitudinal studies to help with the early detection of potential future troubles
