- Abstract: Integrating the data of a research project with the data of other projects is a key challenge in data science. This paper presents a framework for integrating data from different sources, which is based on the concept of data integration. The framework is designed to be flexible and scalable, and it can be used to integrate data from a wide range of sources. The framework is evaluated using a set of test cases, and the results show that it is able to integrate data from different sources effectively.
