Race and Sex across the French Atlantic Frieda Ekotto, 2012-07-10 Jean Genet's masterpiece Les Nègres was first published in 1958 in the midst of the Algerian war and first performed at the Théâtre de Lutèce in Paris in October 1959 Yet even though the play is more than 50 years old it remains a fundamental contribution to critical race theory as Genet unequivocally posits that no matter what a black person does or doesn't do simply to be black in our times is itself a tragedy Placing Genet in the context of Negritude movement Race and Sex across the French Atlantic equally reveals and examines blackness within the African American dialogue with a white French author's provocative questions about race Is a black man always black and even more fundamentally What is blackness Within this framework to question blackness therefore is to set out on an ontological quest as blackness has become a real living thing in its own right within European ideology social theory and historical consciousness even as Les Nègres has taken its place as a major text in the francophone and philosophical tradition of writing on race In essence this book concentrates on the way in which language particularly the French language has shaped ideas about race within transatlantic discourses and with its companion continental philosophy has also shaped the historical understanding of discourse on race It navigates between multiple readings of race within the French Atlantic using Lorraine Hansberry's play Les Blancs Dany Laferrière's Comment faire l'amour avec un Nègre sans se fatiguer Genet's dialogue with the Black Panthers and different conceptions of the so-called N-word Race and Sex across the French Atlantic thus explores how Les Nègres offered a groundbreaking reading of how race functioned and continues to function as an all pervasive discourse that provides a central principle around which society in general is organized The play stages a deeply self reflexive and critical examination of the very essence of

The School Story David Aitchison, 2022-02-04 The School Story Young Adult Narratives in the Age of Neoliberalism examines the work of contemporary writers filmmakers and critics who reflecting on the realm of school experience help to shape dominant ideas of school The creations discussed are mostly stories for children and young adults David Aitchison looks at serious novels for teens including Laurie R. King's Speak and Faiza Guène's Kiffe Kiffe Tomorrow the light hearted middle grade fiction of Andrew Clements and Tommy Greenwald and Malala Yousafzai's autobiography for young readers I Am Malala He also responds to stories that take young people as their primary subjects in such novels as Sapphire's Push and films including Battle Royale and Cooties. Though ranging widely in their accounts of young life such stories betray a mounting sense of crisis in education around the world especially in terms of equity the extent to which students from diverse backgrounds have fair chances of receiving quality education and empowerment the extent to which diverse students are encouraged to gain strength confidence and selfhood as learners. Drawing particular attention to the influence of neoliberal initiatives on school experience this book considers what it means when learning and success are measured more and more by entrepreneurship competitive individualism and marketplace gains. Attentive to the ways in which power structures institutional routines school spaces and social relations operate in the contemporary school story The School Story offers provocative insights into a genre that speaks profoundly to the increasingly precarious position of education in the twenty first century.

Kiffe Kiffe Tomorrow / Ghadan Kiffe Kiffe (Arabic edition) Faiza Guene, 2010-12-20 The residential Paradise projects are only a few metro stops from central Paris but it's a different world. Doria's father the Beard has headed back to Morocco leaving Doria and her mother to cope. It seems that mektoub their fate has it in for them but Doria will prove that the projects are about more than rap soccer and religious tension.

Muslim Women on the Move Doris Gray, 2008 Muslim Women on the Move offers a comparison of two Muslim populations that to date have not been compared in this way. Author Doris Gray compares the personal views of young educated women in Morocco with those of young educated women of Moroccan immigrant origins in France. She conducted extensive personal interviews loosely structured around three main themes over a period of three years in Morocco and in France. The three thematic groups are conceptions of the religion of Islam legal changes affecting women in Morocco and Muslim women in France and personal and professional goals and challenges. This book challenges the conventional dichotomy between the Western and the Muslim world. Voices of a select group of individuals from each of these very different countries show that despite their different national circumstances they have much more in common than is conventionally assumed Gray summarizes individual perceptions and puts them into the larger context of Muslim women and their particular circumstances in the two Western Mediterranean countries Muslim Women on the Move will interest students and scholars of Middle Eastern Studies Women's Studies French and Francophone Studies Religious Studies African Studies Anthropology and Anthropology of Religion Women's Writing in Western Europe Adalgisa Giorgio, Julia Waters, 2007 Women's writing has in recent decades been one of the most exciting and productive areas of literary creativity and critical analysis Thirty years on from the initial spectacular blossoming of women's writing and from pioneering critical projects to re-construct a female literary tradition Women's Writing in Western Europe Gender Generation and Legacy is the first study to investigate the legacy of this earlier generation of writers texts and theories for contemporary women writers from across western Europe This important and timely book brings together original analyses by different generations of critics from around the globe from internationally renowned feminist scholars to promising doctoral students Their sophisticated studies uncover a complex web of explicit and implicit intertextual links between contemporary writers and such iconic figures as Aleramo Beauvoir Colette Cixous Duras Irigaray Kristeva Morante Morgner Woolf and Woolf so attesting to the existence of a truly international women's culture across ever more fluid national borders Women's Writing in Western Europe is a major intervention in the field of feminist literary criticism which offers new comparative understandings of such key theoretical concepts as intertextuality intergenerational relations gender identity and legacy oeCovering an enormous range of writers and national traditions Women's Writing in Western Europe Gender Generation and Legacy attests to the vibrancy and the currency of feminist criticism and theory in the new Europe These essays give us new paradigms to think and read with in the future Professor Marianne Hirsch Columbia University New York oeThirty years after the creative outburst of women's writing and feminist theory of the early 1970s can we still speak of a women's tradition of writing of gender and generation of the iconic role of the mother figure This dense and wide-ranging collection of essays engages with the dynamics of legacy and conflict of recognition and denial to map out some of the many complex strands and relationships marking the textual relations of women's writing across time and geographic boundaries No simple tradition of women's writing emerges but the powerful hold exerted by some of the most canonical writers Beauvoir Woolf Cixous Irigaray Kristeva Rich and the evidence of the construction of new relationships between and across texts by women points to a continuing network of transmission in which women's texts are enmeshed This is an important collection and a large readership will be grateful for this probing of issues which are at the heart of the reading of women's writing Professor Elizabeth Fallaize St John's College Oxford Books for the Teen Age, 2007 New York Public Library.
