Daily Five's Impact on Early Literacy Skills Abigail Reba Masten, 2013

The purpose of this study was to see if the Daily 5 literacy block structure had any impact on literacy scores among kindergarten students specifically on letter naming letter sounds and sight words The author's current year kindergarten class of 16 students participated in the Daily 5 method Results were compared with the author's previous year's kindergarten class of 13 students who participated instead in a basal reading block framework from the Literacy By Design series The study took place in a small rural Minnesota elementary school The assessment data collected was administered by the teacher using alphabet flashcards shown individually to each child Growth data was collected and compared over a quarter of the school years The author concluded that the Daily 5 group had a slightly higher level of mastery over letter naming letter sounds and sight words The author also noted that students succeeded at working independently with the Daily 5 method

The Daily 5 Gail Boushey, Joan Moser, 2006 Do you love teaching but feel exhausted from the energy you expend cajoling disciplining and directing students on a daily basis Are you questioning the value of busy work but afraid that ceasing from such activities will lead to chaos in the classroom Have you heard the phrase work smarter not harder but don't have a clue how to start If so you'll want to meet The Sisters Gail Boushey and Joan Moser They set about designing a structure that would ensure all children were working at their level of challenge while taking responsibility for their learning and behaviour and that would provide meaningful instruction blocks without extensive preparation time for teachers Thus the Daily Five was born Based on literacy learning and motivation research the Daily Five has been practiced and refined in their own classrooms for 10 years and shared with thousands of teachers throughout the United States The Daily Five is a series of literacy tasks reading to self reading with someone writing word work and listening to reading which students complete daily while the teacher meets with small groups or confers with individuals
