

Sempre caro mi fu quest'ermo colle,
E questa siepe, che da tanta parte
De l'ultimo orizzonte il guardo esclude.
Ma sedendo e mirando, l'interminato spazio di là da quella, e sovrumani
Silenzi, e profondissima quiete
Io nel pensier mi fingo, ove per poco
M'or non si spaura. E come il vento
Odo stormir tra queste piante, io quello
Infinito silenzio a questa voce
Vo comparando: e mi sovrana l'eterno,
E la morte stagioni, e la presente
E viva, e l'union di lei. L'or tra questa ^{infinita}
~~infinita~~ l'anega il pensier mio:
E il naufragar m'è dolce in questo mare.

Poems of Leopardi

Giacomo Leopardi Translated from the Italian by Francis Henry Cliffe

Giacomo Leopardi, the greatest Italian poet of the Nineteenth Century, was born at Recanati, a town of the March of Ancona, on the twenty-ninth of June 1798, the eldest son of Count Monaldo Leopardi and Adelaide, his wife, daughter of the Marquis Antici. He had four brothers and one sister, Paolina. His father possessed a splendid library and was a man of learning and literary tastes, appearing himself as an author in prose and verse. Recanati is situated on an eminence in the Apennines, not far from Ancona, and the celebrated shrine of Loreto, and as a biographer of our poet says, "Its natural beauties are superb, and the genius of its great son has made them incomparable." Up to the age of twenty-four, Leopardi did not leave his native place. The constant sight of so lovely a landscape, bordered in the distance by the Adriatic, contributed in no slight measure to give him that exquisite taste and sympathy for nature for which he is unique among the poets of his country.

Leopardi Giacomo Leopardi, 2016-06-30 These translations of the major poems of Giacomo Leopardi 1798-1837 render into modern English verse the work of a writer who is widely regarded as the greatest lyric poet in the Italian literary tradition In spite of this reputation and in spite of a number of nineteenth and twentieth century translations Leopardi's poems have never come over into English in such a way as to guarantee their author a recognition comparable to that of other great European Romantic poets By catching something of Leopardi's cadences and tonality in a version that still reads as idiomatic modern English with an occasional Irish or American accent Leopardi's Selected Poems should win for the Italian poet the wider appreciative audience he deserves His themes are mutability landscape love his attitude one of unflinching realism in the face of unavoidable human loss But the manners of the poems are a unique amalgam of philosophical toughness and the lyrically bittersweet In a way more pure and distilled than most others in the Western tradition these poems are truly what Matthew Arnold asked all poetry to be a criticism of life The translator's aim is to convey something of the profundity and something of the sheer poetic achievement of Leopardi's inestimable Canti Giacomo Leopardi: *Canti Giacomo Leopardi, 2014-07-24 First published in 1937 this book presents a selection of poems from Leopardi's Canti in the original Italian Created primarily for university students the selection was made with the idea of representing as fully as possible all stages of Leopardi's poetic career The text also contains a detailed introduction notes and bibliography all in English This book will be of value to anyone with an interest in Leopardi's poetry and Italian literature L'amor patrio nella poesia di Giacomo Leopardi Noemi Levi, 1898 Le operette morali di Giacomo Leopardi Giacomo Leopardi, 1870

The Poems of Giacomo Leopardi Giacomo Leopardi, 2015-01-06 Giacomo Leopardi is a great name in Italy among philosophers and poets but is quite unknown in this country and Mr Townsend has the honor of introducing him in the most captivating way to his countrymen In Germany and France he has excited attention Translations have been made of his works essays have been written on his ideas But in England his name is all but unheard of Six or seven years ago Mr Charles Edwards published a translation of the essays and dialogues but no version of the poems has appeared so far as I know Leopardi was substantially a poet that is to say he had imagination sentiment passion an intense love of beauty a powerful impulse towards things ideal The sad tone of his speculations about the universe and human destiny gave an impression of mournfulness to his lines but this rather deepened the pathos of his work In the same breath he sang of love and the grave and the love was the more eager for its brevity He had the poetic temperament sensitive ardent aspiring He possessed the poetic aspect the broad white brow the large blue eyes Some compared him to Byron but the resemblance was external merely In ideas purpose feeling he was entirely unlike the Englishman in the energy and fire of his style only did he somewhat resemble him Worshippers have even ventured to class him with Dante a comparison which shows at least in what estimation the poet could be held at home and how largely the patriotic sentiment entered into the conception of poetical compositions how necessary it was that the singer should be a bard His verses ranged over a large field They were philosophic patriotic amorous There are odes lyrics satires songs many very beautiful and feeling all noble and earnest His three poems All Italia Sopra il Monumento di Dante A Angelo Mai gave him a national reputation They touch the chords to which he always responded patriotism poetry learning a national idealism bearing aloft an enormous weight of erudition and thought
