

The background of the cover is a detailed illustration of a futuristic space station or orbital platform. The structure is complex, with various levels, corridors, and mechanical components visible. It is set against a backdrop of a vast, teal-colored sky or atmosphere. In the lower right, a large, bright yellow sun or star is visible, casting a glow. A bright, white beam of light or energy extends from the station towards the bottom right corner. The overall style is that of a classic science fiction pulp magazine cover.
